Five Oklahoma Counties On Edge Of Martial Law

Governor Says Will Stamp Out Mob Rule

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 27.—Five other Oklahoma counties are "on the ragged edge of martial law" Governor Walton declared. "I mean to stop mob violence and will put every county under martial law if necessary," said Walton.

TULSA, Ok., June 27.—Four units of the National Guard, comprising about 100 men, commanded by Brig. Gen. Alva J. Niles, were to entrain here this morning for duty at Okmulgee, where martial law was proclaimed by Governor J. C. Walton yesterday.

OKMULGEE, Ok., June 27.—Six National Guard companies were administering the law in Okmulgee county today.

The blanket proclamation signed by Governor Walton late yesterday supercedes all civil law in the county with the military.

ELEVEN MONTHS OLD BABY IS SUFFERING FROM FALL

Billie Jean, the eleven-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bartlett of this city, is in the hospital suffering from the effects of a fall he received Saturday morning when he fell off the door step and hit upon his head, rendering him unconscious. He has never regained consciousness up to the present time. The physicians hold very little hope for the little fellow and it is understood that they may perform an operation upon his head and try to take the blood from off the brain.

Dr. Luther B. Bridgers and his sister, H. S. Jenkins, were the chief entertainers at the Salesmanship club at noon today. On account of so many Salesmen going to Waco for the baseball game, the attendance was cut down to 21, the smallest number since the organization began in the first part of the year. It was, however, an enjoyable occasion for those present.

The Mexia Rotary Club will hold its regular weekly luncheon Thursday at noon. Dr. T. F. Ontes is leader. An interesting program has been planned. Dr. D. C. Bayless will tender a report of the convention at St. Louis and Dr. Luther B. Bridgers will also be present to deliver a short address.

KANSAS CITY.—After searching two years for a gang of counterfeiters, Federal agents arrested two inmates of the county poor farm. The men raised $2 bills to $10, the officers charged.

KANSAS CITY.—Although the jury was 11 to 1 for conviction and still out, Leo Graves, charged with robbery, got a new trial. The judge ordered a re-trial when the foreman volunteered an announcement of how the jury stood.

DALLAS, Tex., June 27.—No heat relief was promised by the weather bureau today. Following yesterday's record temperature of the year—96. Increasing cloudiness was in prospect today, however, which may mean some slight mitigation of the extreme heat, it was said.

THE WEATHER

Tonight and Thursday generally fair.

Late German Financier in British Divorce

Commander George Douglas Campbell, of the British Navy, has asked London courts to dissolve his marriage. Mrs. Marie Aleida Campbell, the defendant, is charged with misconduct with Hans Burt, Baron Treusch van Buttlar-Brandenfels, who is now dead, but who in his lifetime was one of the leaders of German finances.

July The 4th Plans Are Now Being Formed

Mrs. Sam Cox and scores of other ladies of Mexia are very much interested in a patriotic observance of July the Fourth in Mexia. The various clubs of the city will likely join in whole heartedly with any and all efforts to celebrate the day here as befits an American people. Plans are being laid for a big open air sing-song and speaking at the Baseball park at ten o'clock in the morning of the Fourth. At that time, patriotic songs will be sung and an address on Americanism by Dr. Luther B. Bridgers is in prospect.

Mrs. Cox calls attention of the citizens to the opportunity that their automobiles give them for a worthy display of national colors. The fourth is only a few days off and by beginning now, Mexia is certain to do something worth while.

Business houses are also urged to decorate their places in the national colors and with the Stars and Stripes.

The service in the morning will not interfere with the plans of any who may want to go to the baseball game at Corsicana in the afternoon, to Te-huacana for the big dinner there or to the Playgrounds by the Navasota or elsewhere.

Mrs. Cox was one of the delegates to the state meeting of Federated Women's clubs and at that time there was a general agreement that the Fourth of July would be properly observed throughout Texas. The ladies of Mexia may be counted on to co-operate.

The Army And Navy Called For By Pro Leaders

By EARL J. JOHNSON.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WESTERVILLE, Ohio, June 27.—Demands that President Harding wield the full force of the army and navy against liquor law violations were made in resolutions placed before the $1,000,000 war council of national dry leaders today.

Other resolutions called on the Federal Government to extend America's territorial waters twelve miles from shore to combat rum running on the Atlantic coast.

Administration Hall, on the sleepy campus of Otterbein college today became the "dry capitol" of the United States as fifty high officials of the Anti-Saloon League resumed discussions preliminary to their renewed fight to dry up the country.

The League's general counsel, Wayne B. Wheeler, presented historical evidence intended to show the three-mile limit is out of date. His version is that the imaginary line three miles from shore was drawn in the Eighteenth Century on the basis of the distance a coast defence cannon of that day would shoot.

Every dollar of the League's annual income of approximately $2,000,000, will be thrown into the war on State prohibition repealer, P. A. Baker, general superintendent declared in an interview with the United Press.

"Prohibition today is purely theoretical," said Baker. "Our campaign is to make it a reality."

The League's slogan for the present is "dry America first."

After that, instead of turning over its huge reform machine to other crusaders, the league intends to carry its dry fight abroad.

Baker replied to the suggestion that the wet enemy once defeated the League might interest itself in anti-tobacco fight by pointing out several cuspidors near the assembly room.

"The puffed cheeks you see here are not tooth aches," he said smiling. "No, our first virtue is sincerity."

Klan Higher Ups To Speak Tonight To Waco K. K. K.s

WACO, June 27.—Klansmen from throughout the Waco province are pouring in today to a meeting that is to be held tonight at which H. C. McCall, Grand Dragon, and H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard, are scheduled to speak regarding the controversy raging between Evans and William A. Simmons, klan emperor. It is understood that the meeting will be open to the public.

CHICAGO.—Felix Politowits went into county court to protest taxes and was seized for John Politowits, wanted on an insanity charge. Two months later he was released from an Elgin asylum when a brother-in-law proved Felix wasn't John.

COCA COLA KING WEDS STENOGRAPHER

While his lawyers were trying to compromise the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Mrs. Onezime de Bouchelle, New Orleans society leader, Asa G. Candler, Coca Cola King and the South's richest man, of Atlanta, Georgia, quietly married Mrs. May Little Ragin, 30, a public stenographer. Mrs. Ragin, a widow, is the mother of 10-year-old twin daughters, Julia and Mary, who may inherit part of their step-father's millions.

Worldliness of Church Members Denounced Without Fear or Favor By Evangelist At The Revival

"He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. . . . Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin: for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin because he is born of God."—First John 8th chapter and parts of the 8th and 9th verses.

The worldliness of church members was denounced by the evangelist Tuesday night, when the sermon of the occasion was centered around parts of the eighth and ninth verses of the third Chapter of First John. He did not mince words but hit straight out, regardless of whom the message might hit.

The song service was inspirational under the leadership of Mr. H. S. Jenkins.

The song and prayer service each evening is one of the fine features of the revival as well as the gospel preaching of Dr. Bridgers.

There is no question about the future of Christianity, if the church keeps clean and strong and Christ-like, he asserted at the outset. No nation was ever destroyed from the outside, he pointed out. Internal dissension, civil strife and weakness within are more dangerous to the people than the attack of outside and foreign foes. The church can only be safe as its members make it. The hardest thing in the world is to pull a sinner to the altar and mourner's bench over the backs of backslidden and wicked church members. It is hard to fight evil when others in the church participate in gambling, in drinking, in worldliness and do not stand up for right and Jesus Christ. A man cannot be a sinner and a Christian at one and the same time. There are some people who say they cannot sin, but where there is one such person there are thousands of the opposite and equally dangerous belief that they simply have to sin, that they could not keep from it, if they would. Religion means more than such a cheap interpretation. Religion means more than Baptism. Religion means more than red tape. If man tramples God's Holy Day, he is a sinner in the sight of God. We hear of sin in Mexico, of the desecration of the Sabbath, of liquor drinking and bootlegging; of girls being debauched, of roadside parties, of homes being wrecked and many other shameful sins and disgraces. "But I tell you, you will have a town just like your churches want it to be. Sin in Mexia today is due to the tolerance and indifference of worldly church members. Men try to prove that they have got to sin harder than they try to keep from sinning. Proud inconsistent church members are dangerous to church life. They want to serve the devil and retain their church membership. I am contending for a higher standard of living. Sin cannot be made respectable.

The Sabbath must be kept, if Christianity is to survive. When a nation begins to desecrate and disregard the Holy day, then that people begin the downward journey to dishonor and oblivion. It means something to be a church member. Christians must draw the line between right and wrong. A consistent Christian will not attend Sunday baseball. O! I have done said it and ruined myself here now. You will know it, too, when you stand before the great judgment bar of God. Some folks think that it is all right to go to church and keep half of the Sabbath and then turn around and desecrate the other half, by going to baseball games. The Sabbath cannot be kept holy in no such fashion. The Christian and consistent church member must keep the whole commandment. (This portion of the discourse, was interspersed with a number of "Amen's" from the pastor, W. B. Andrews.) Mexia can have a baseball team and a good one, too, without disregarding God's law. The support of the good people of this place is essential for the team. Give it to them, and then you will have the respect of that other element who attends Sunday baseball games and curses the church and the religion of their fathers. I had rather have fewer pleasures and Christ than many pleasures without Christ. If we could get the ministry around the altar rail; the board of stewards and deacons and elders and organizers and

Goode Trial Is Scheduled To Open Next There

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 27.—The fate of Tom Ross is with the jury, but no verdict has yet been returned. The Goode trial is scheduled to start today.

Delay, caused by a sick juror, held up the trial of Tom Ross and the jury was to consider his guilt or innocence today, having failed to receive the case early yesterday afternoon.

In instructions to the jury the court declared that it "it believed from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that Tom Ross unlawfully and with malice aforethought shot and killed W. D. Allison" he should be "found guilty of murder and punishment assessed at death or by confinement in the state penitentiary for life or for any term of years not less than five, to be determined by the jury."

The defendant must be acquitted of murder "unless the jury believes beyond a reasonable doubt" Ross' guilt, the instructions held.

Ross and Milt Goode were indicted in connection with the murder of Allison and H. L. Robertson, cattle inspectors, at eminoles, Texas, April 1. Goode's trial will be begun as soon as Ross' is concluded.

GAME WARDEN'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY NEFF

AUSTIN, June 27.—The resignation of C. F. Simmons, as chief deputy game warden, was tendered to the governor, the result of differences with the Fish and Game Commissioner. The latter requested the resignation, it is understood. Simmons had prepared stringent recommendations following the investigation of the department, and a re-organization of the department may result. Simmons' resignation was accepted.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Ed Walthall, 42, brought his marriage license back to the county clerk. "She changed her mind since the other night when the moon was out," he said. The was to have been June bride who balked was Miss Lida Whalen, 24.

choirs, and church members at the mourners bench and bathe the holy place in tears of penitence, it would be such a glorious scene that the angels in heaven would bend over the battlements of that happy land and sing and rejoice in gladness.

The heart of humanity today is hungry for old time salvation. (Read the 5th and 6th chapter of Romans.)

There are church members who pray without sincerity. They ask God to forgive them for sins which they know then and there that they are going to get out and commit again next day. You cannot sponge on God's "free" grace in any such way. You can't fool God. You can't hide your wickedness in behind some one else. Some folks say that if their conscience says "It's all right," then it's all right. There never was a more misleading doctrine. According to God's Holy Word, Reason should be the deciding factor. We are too anxious to appear broad gauged. God help us to be narrow enough to walk in the straight and narrow way. The soul that sinneth shall surely die.

The subject at the morning service today was on "The Fatherhood of God."

Tonight's subject will be "The Fruits of Repentance."

Governor Appoints Judges For the New Court Civil Appeals

AUSTIN, June 27.—Governor Neff today announced appointment of judges of the newly created Tenth court of civil appeals at Waco as follows:

W. C. Davis, Bryan; George W. Barcus, Waco, and James M. Robertson, Meridian. Barcus and Robertson took the oath of office before Chief Justice Cureton of the Supreme Court this morning and Davis will qualify within a few days.

Judge Davis, who has held a district judgeship at Bryan, will be chief justice of the new court. Barcus and Robertson are lawyers of prominence.

The Waco Court was created by the second called legislative session over Governor Neff's veto. It was stated the court will be organized immediately, but probably will not begin functioning until the close of the summer recess in October.

Action of the governor in naming the new court indicates that he will approve the appropriation for its support, contained in the judiciary appropriation bill.

FARMERS SHOULD ORGANIZE

The value of farm organizations was presented to the National Wheat Conference at Chicago by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor Wednesday. "If wage earners had not organized nobody would have listened to their demands, and if the farmers expect to be listened to they must do likewise," said the great labor leader.

There was not one in the conference better capacitated to talk on organization and its potential values than was Mr. Gompers. As leader of the hosts of labor he has given years of his life to thought and study of organization methods, the extent to which they should go and the limit to be placed upon their operations.

He speaks well within the truth when he says that had not labor organized it would have found few to listen to it; but when it speaks collectively instead of individually, the world gives heed. Farmers could well profit by the record of the labor organizations in accomplishing the tasks they have undertaken, while avoiding the mistakes made that militated against them and rendered progress and development more difficult than otherwise would have been in the case.

It is generally conceded that the main reason farming is unprofitable is the lack of organization and the cohesiveness that properly belongs with it. There is much to be said in commendation of individual effort, without which there can be no reward. But there comes times when the individual can best help himself and render a better service to his community by acting co-operatively with his fellows than by pulling alone. And when the condition faces him he should look at it.

and the friendly co-operation of his neighbor in securing the things that will make not only for his personal betterment, but for the betterment of the community.

The trouble with the farming class has been, and it prevails, to a great extent today, is that they have not learned that they are merchants as well as producers. That they have something to sell that should be sold in a businesslike way and in accordance with business rules and principles.
They know something is wrong somewhere and too many of them have tried to locate the trouble in the legislative halls of the state and nation.
They have been encouraged to look there for remedies for their ills by designing politicians who selfishly prostitute a good and worthy cause to ignoble ends. They have been riding the farmers and the toiling class for years and the strange part of it is that they are still sitting in the saddle despite their failure to accomplish the things promised.

Class legislation will wholly fail to bring the relief producers hope for and must have it they succeed. Class legislation is the bane of progress and prosperity for it is the basis of discontent; and no country can prosper or progress when any number of the people are discontented and unhappy. All any citizen should require of his government is fair and just laws, laws that will give no special privilege or work an unjust hardship upon one class to the exclusion of another.

Given this with the aid of business co-operation through organizations formed for mutual help and assistance—organizations kept free from thoughtless touch of politics and farming will develop into the most profitable business in the nation. Let it be understood once and for all that supply and demand are basic principles which no legislation can alter or change or repeal. Having that thought in mind and with selling agencies established in accordance with that fundamental law those who farm and raise what the world must have to live on will control the markets and make their vocations worth while.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA & DANGER

Medical Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite.
Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package;
ten cents for the small, trial size.
Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs—(Adv.)

ACTOR RISKS LIFE FLAGGING TRAIN IN "THE GO-GETTER"

Defying death when he flagged an express train traveling at a speed of forty miles an hour, T. Roy Barnes, who plays the featured role of Bill Peck in the Paramount-Cosmopolitan production of "The Go-Getter," which comes to the National theatre Thursday, gave a distinct thrill to Director Griffith and the engine driver of the train, who were seated in the cab.

During the filming of the aeroplane express train scenes of the picture Mr.
Barnes stood between the rails. After alighting from an aeroplane Mr.

Barnes soaked his coat in gasoline and, lighting it, takes his place between the rails and waves the flaming garment at the train, which is speeding down upon him. The train thundered along at a distance of twenty yards and still the actor stood in its path wildly waving his blazing torch.

"Get off!" shouted Director Griffith, waving his arms frantically at Barnes, who still maintained his position.
"You're a dead man in another second!"

But Barnes was too cool a hand to allow himself to be ground to pieces.
Giving the express a leeway of fifteen feet, Barnes jumped to safety just as the ponderous engine swept by, covering him with dust. The emergency brake had been set by the engine driver and the train came to a halt within fifty yards. The director remonstrated with Barnes for his daring, but the actor merely laughed at the incident.

Senora Owen is featured with Mr.
Barnes in this thrilling photoplay, as are also William Morris, Tom Lewis and Louis Wolheim.

OFF FOR SUMMER

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stevens and lovely little daughter Elizabeth, and Fred Reeves, will leave Thursday in automobile for an extended trip which will carry them to the homes of relatives and friends in many Southern states. Among the states in which they will stop are, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia and Maryland. They are looking forward to the trip with much pleasure. For several months, they have been making their plans and would have left two weeks ago, had it not been for the heavy rains that fell about that time. This will be the longest vacation that Mr. and Mrs.

Stevens have ever taken and it may be September before they are home again.

NEED FOR UNIFORMITY IN BUSINESS LAWS

How Collection of Just Debts May
Be Prevented by Differing
State Statutes.

An effort to bring about better coordination and greater uniformity among state laws dealing with business and banking is being made by the American Bankers Association.

It is pointed out that, although the country is a unit commercially, and citizens of any one state may do business that reaches all over the country, most laws governing business transactions are made by the different states, with application limited to their own local jurisdictions and often in conflict with laws in other states. It is held that state laws should be uniform so that the same transaction will not be subject to different sets of rules according as state laws differ.

To illustrate the disadvantages of conflicting laws, the following illustration is given: Mr. Jones lives in New York where the statute of limitations outlaws a note in six years. He falls into the error of assuming that the same rule prevails everywhere. He visits Maryland and loans $1,000 to his friend, Mr. Smith, taking a promissory note. As the note carries interest Mr. Jones is in no hurry for his money and he believes Smith to be financially responsible. Finally at the end of four years Jones concludes he has loaned Smith the money long enough and seeks to collect the note from him. But Smith can deny liability and point to the statute of Maryland which Jones is surprised to learn outlaws a note after three years.

Changes Recommended
The particular subjects of legislation recommended by the association for enactment by state legislatures during 1923 include uniform acts on negotiable instruments, bills of lading, warehouse receipts, stock transfer, and fiduciaries.

Under the head of laws for better protection of banks in particular transactions are proposed measures dealing with limiting liability on certified checks; instruments based on gambling or usurious consideration; time limit on stop payment; payment of state checks; adverse claim to bank deposit; payment of forged or raised checks; deposits in two names; deposits in trust; competency of bank and corporation notaries; non-payment of check through error; Saturday afternoon bank transactions, and forwarding check direct to payor.

Under the Federal Reserve and foreign banking are recommended laws on membership of state institutions in Federal Reserve System, and foreign banking. Penal laws proposed deal with false statements for credit; stender and libel of bank checks or drafts without funds, and burglary with explosives.

interior trade year, both in imports and exports, $36,876,855.

The principal articles purchased from American manufacturers during 1922 in the order of their value follow:

Tinplate and manufactures thereof	$3,113,271
Machinery, mining, pumping, etc.	2,013,926
Petroleum products	1,738,315
Lumber	1,658,734
Tobacco	723,032
Explosives	627,002

The bulk of the trade of course was in foodstuffs and clothing, for Alaska is totally dependent upon outside sources for the principal food products, her development not yet having turned into agricultural channels.

If Alaska were a great nation figuring her prosperity in terms of trade balances, the territory would congratulate herself. In all the years of her recent development it has sent more goods to the United States than it has bought, ample proof that "Seward was right."

"THE GO-GETTER" COMING

The Paramount Cosmopolitan production, "The Go-Getter," will be the feature on the bill at the National theatre Thursday. The story, written by Peter B. Kyne, is a fast moving comedy-drama, in which T. Roy Barnes, Seena Owen, William Morris, Tom Lewis and Louis Wolheim are the featured players. The supporting cast is strong. E. H. Griffith, who supervised the screening of many of Peter Kyne's stories, directed.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. C. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart.

"This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

Big Crowd "Got Ozie Lewis' Goat" At Reunion Grounds Tuesday Night

Mr. and Mrs. Ozie Lewis were hosts to a large gathering of relatives and friends at their "camp" at the Reunion Grounds Tuesday evening when they served a goat barbecue with all the traditional trimmings, and if you don't think it was a feast just ask Whit Brodnax, that is, if he is able to be up after eating a quarter of a well cooked goat. Whit is some eater.

The outing was given honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Schutt and children of Fort Worth. Mrs. Schutt being a sister of Mr. Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Comfort, cousins of the hosts, and was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind ever pulled off at the famous play grounds.

There were present the following Mexiaites:

Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Outes and daughter, Miss Ada; Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Smith and little son, Benjamin; Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Priddy, Mrs. Joe Stevens and son, John Davis; Mrs. J. M. Patton, Miss Lizzie Mae Parker, Miss Betty Karner Kennedy, W. J. Hayter, C. G. White, Mr. and Mrs. Whit Brodnax and children, Major N.

P. Haux and grand daughters, Misses Lurline and Andrea Betts, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lyell.

Out of Town Guests

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Pyburn and children, of Coolidge; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Comfort and son, James of Corsicana; Mrs. Smith Comfort, of Corsicana; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Schutt and children, of Fort Worth; Miss Bettie Joe Kennedy, of Chickasha, Okla.

After the feast, some of the younger set enjoyed a dip in the swimming pool and others just sat around and enjoyed an hour in friendly chat with the friends there gathered.

It was an enjoyable outing and will long be remembered by those present.

Chas. Wolverton was over from Mart, Tuesday visiting his mother, Mrs. V. Wolverton, and other relatives.

QUICK ACTION BRAKES EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

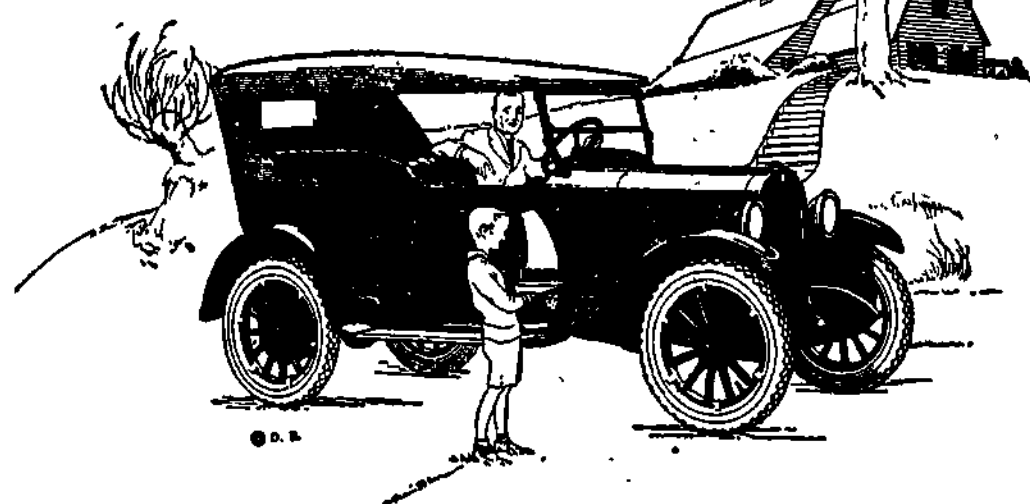

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2 1/4 inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

Waco Indians Defeat Mexia Gushers 4-3 Sherman Win Put Mexia-Sherman Tied

The Waco Indians pulled the Gushers down into a tie for first place honors with Sherman, who hammered Johnson of the Rangers for an easy win, by defeating them by the score of 4 to 3.

It seems to me that the Rangers are resting a while so that things will be different when the game for today is over and the rag has gone to some one. But the Indians are dragging the old ball for all it is worth.

Things were rather quiet, so says Jinx Tucker, as only three players were banished from the park. Manager Reynolds of the Indians and Manager Northon and Lefty McGerty of the Gushers. That Waco bunch must be used to a lot of fussing over there and I don't guess that they would call it a ball game unless some one was put out of the park.

West, a new umpire who claims Austin as his abode, officiated in the leading role and Jinx Tucker says he was presented with a wreath after wreath of razzberries and from what we can gather there was a lot of bum guesses made one of which counted for the Indians winning score.

Tiner and Schmid hooked up in a brilliant duel and Tiner had the worst end of the fray. In the fourth with two out, Northern having gone out on a hit and run play when Bechtol failed to connect with the ball, Bechtol slapped the horsehide over right field fence for four bases.

Waco tied the score in the fourth, with one out, Untz walked, Schroyer doubled down right field line and Untz knowing that Northern possessed a weak wing started for home. Hub relayed the ball home and West ruled Untz safe on a close play. Northern came in from right field vigorously protesting the decision and West sent him to the club house and McGerty was sent in the same direction as Hub for using abusive language.

The same teams play there this afternoon and if the Gushers win and Austin decides to take the game from the Sox, Mexia will rest with the tag for the first hit. Lefty Ferguson will be the likely nominee for the Reddians and it is presumed that "Old Luck" Charley Johnson will start for the Gushers.

FORMER MAYOR DE LEON HARP IN CITY ON SUMMER TRIP

De Leon Harp, now resident of San Antonio and former Mayor of Mexia, reached here Tuesday afternoon accompanied by his wife and daughter Miss Eva Mae on their way to Minnesota. Judge Harp states he had a most pleasant trip here in his Buick Sedan—leaving San Antonio about six o'clock in the morning and reaching his destination in Mexia at four-thirty. The party leaves Mexia about noon Wednesday on their way North and after a visit in Minnesota, they travel West to Yellowstone Park and then through Denver to their home in San Antonio.

The Judge is looking fit and fine, the picture of health and vigor and his many friends rejoice in his complete recovery after his strenuous labors here during the oil boom days. The brief time here was spent in the home of her sister, Mrs. R. E. Hickman.

McFALL NEARING NACHTOCHES SAND

The test on the McFall tract, four miles northeast of town, is now drilling around 1400 feet. R. H. Vice stated that the drill had penetrated to a depth of 1360 feet by early this morning. Since then he has not been to the operation, but so far more than one hundred feet daily has been the average and with the same progress, the Nachtoches sand should be reached within the next few hours. If found to be encouraging at all, the operators will stop where they are and develop the shallow sand before proceeding on down.

Mrs. Tommy Haines was hostess for the Humphreys bridge club Monday morning. She had three tables of bridge and her guest were: Miss Gertrude Newman, Miss Sally Pengilly, Mrs. Rome Rust, Mrs. Warren Dale, Miss Ruth Roller, Mrs. Bud Hennington. QUEBEC HONORS WORTHY CITIZENS AS WELL AS WAR HEROES

CHAMPLAIN, FOUNDER OF QUEBEC.

Quebec is essentially a city of French strongholds with 8,000 men and won a lasting victory for British arms. Both Wolfe and Montcalm, the French leader, met their deaths through this battle. That the victory was one of more than military prestige is proclaimed by the stately shaft that stands in the Governor's Garden above Dufferin Terrace between the Citadel and Chateau Frontenac, and which was raised to the memory of these two heroes.

For over a century Quebec has almost constantly a battle-ground on which a British-French duel was fought. Here was endured the long agony of the Iroquois Indian war; here were staged the sieges of Admiral Kirk in 1629 and of Sir William Phips in 1690. But the greatest battle fought over these historic cliffs was that of the Plains of Abraham when the British General Wolfe stealthily scaled the supposedly impregnable walls of the

COLONEL HUMPHREYS OFF TO COLORADO

Col. A. E. Humphreys and officials of the Humphreys Oil Co., left Tuesday afternoon for Dallas to attend the Stockholders meeting in the Dallas offices of the company. Albert Humphreys Jr., arrived on the noon train Tuesday to return with the party. Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Humphreys also joined the party and after the meeting they hurry on to Denver and Cheyenne for a polo tournament in which Mr. Humphreys plays. After which they join Colonel Humphreys at his lodge in the mountains of Southwestern Colorado known to his many friends here as Wagon Wheel Gap.

Mrs. J. W. Lanning entertained Tuesday morning in honor of Mrs. J. H. Baker of Delphi, La. There were choice tables of bridge and those winning prizes were Mrs. Baker who won high score and Miss Ruth Kahn the guest prize and Miss Christine Kendrick won second.

A prominent manufacturer who operates many trucks, says: "We have obtained excellent results since adopting Dayton Tires as standard equipment, and while it is not always practical to obtain the exact mileage on trucks, it is our opinion that these tires will give 25% to 33% more service than any other tires we have ever used."—Boston Wagon Hose & Rubber Co., Boston, Mass.

Air Marathon Started By U. S. Army Men San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 27.—Capt. Lowell Smith and Lieutenant John F. Richter took off at 4:43 this morning in an army airplane to remain aloft for four days. If successful it will break all records for sustained flight. The trip is made possible by the perfection of a plan to refuel an airplane while in flight. Gasoline is passed from one plane to another while both are traveling 80 miles an hour. They will circle around the city the entire flight.

Later: The fliers were forced to descend after flying six hours, on account of a burned out generator. Misses Frances Bass and Frederika Karner have been in Corsicana for the past several days being participants in the Casparin-Jackson nuptials.

Pres. Harding Says Political Forces Are Committing Historic Blunders Management Regarding Prohibition

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent.

DENVER, Colo., June 27. The political forces that are seeking to make capital out of moves to repeal or weaken the prohibition laws are perpetrating "one of the historic blunders in political management," President Harding declared in his address here recently.

Appealing to the "broadest and best sentiments of law abiding American everywhere," the president predicted that the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution, will never be repealed.

Mr. Harding foreshadowed contemplated changes in the Volstead act, however, stating that "doubtless there will be changes in details of enforcement policy. He quickly added though that these would be towards "effective enforcement, rather than moderation."

The president spoke on the question of "law enforcement" and made one of the most remarkable addresses of his tour so far. He came out flat-footedly in calling on the country to observe the prohibition laws to the letter. He gave no quarter in condemning all who wink at the laws and in severely criticizing states who do not meet their full duty in carrying the propo-tionate share of enforcing the laws. President Harding struck out with full force in taking to task the state of New York for repealing its prohibition enforcement law. Mr. Harding did not mention New York or Governor Smith by name, but he left no doubt that he was referring to the passage of the Mullin-Gage law repealer and its signature by Al Smith.

"There could be no more complete negation of state rights," he declared.

Speaking "of this policy of nullification" as he called it, the President said that "when the implications of this strange proposal are fully understood by people under parties devoted to preserving the rights of the states, the new nullificationists, I venture to say, will discover that they have perpetrated what is likely to prove one of the historic blunders in political management."

"The country and the nation will not permit the law of the land to be made a by-word," declared the president.

"The issue is fast coming to be recognized, not as an issue between wets and dries, not a question between those who believe in prohibition and those who do not, not a contention between those who want to drink and those who do not; it is fast being raised above all that, to recognition as an issue of whether the laws of this country can be and will be enforced."

Soft Coal Miners Enjoy Homes Rented For Twelve Dollars A Month; Amusement Costs Are Reported Low

The men—and women and children, too—who live in the bituminous coal fields live well. They have advantages of which many city dwellers might well be jealous.

The lower picture shows a typical vine-covered cottage in which a mine worker and his family lives in one of the Colorado fuel fields. It has, like nearly all of them, a yard and garden space, is clean, comfortable, and attractive in every way.

Coal companies build these houses for their employees. In former years, the experiment has been tried of selling the houses to the miners, but this has been discontinued as it was thought to be unfair because of the nature of the coal mining industry. The average life of a coal mine is twenty-five years, and when the coal is worked out, the community often dies. The companies now provide the houses.

For these houses, the miners pay at a rate running from $1 to $2 per room each month. Usually the higher figure obtains. This means that a comfortable six room house, with modern improvements, is rented by the mine worker for $12 a month. Can you match this anywhere else?

Consider, too, that at some mines the family fuel for cooking and heating is supplied for about $1 a ton—at many mines it is entirely free—and that the lighting of the houses is done by the companies free of charge in nearly all cases.

The upper picture shows a visiting nurse giving instruction to wives and daughters of miners in sewing. These visiting nurses are forming a more and more important phase in the life of a coal mining community—a phase which was unknown up until a few years ago.

When epidemics come, the visiting nurses have been the means of saving hundreds of lives of miners and their families.

Only nurses who can pass rigid tests are taken for this work. The first requirement is that they be graduate, registered trained nurses. Two years' practical experience since graduation is required before they can be considered for the mine work, in most of the fields where they are used.

Dangerous To Neglect High Blood Pressure

Does your system seemed to have "slowed up?" Does your heart palpitate or breath become labored on slight exertion? Are you weak, nervous and a poor sleeper? Do you have dizzy spells? Is constipation frequent? Have you ringing in ears?

High Blood Pressure may cause one or all of these symptoms. And if neglected it may lead to a premature death.

If you have any of these symptoms, protect your health by taking Bi-a-lin. It acts by regulating the bile, the liver, and the organs of digestion and elimination. Then they cast out in nature's own way, the wastes and poisons which have caused your high blood pressure.

Recently Bi-a-lin has been put up in pleasant convenient tablets so that anyone may have it without a prescription. It is harmless as well as effective. For not only does it reduce high blood pressure, but it also tones up the great internal organs and thus gives you a new lease on life. Try Bi-a-lin today and see how quickly you begin to feel years younger. Sold by all good druggists such as the Mexia Drug company and Anderson & Gilliland. (Adv.)

Mutual Recognition Stopped Possible Further Trouble

DALLAS, Texas, June 27.—It was a case of mutual recognition when Captain George Emiko of the local police force renewed his acquaintance with a negro bad man here.

Emiko invaded the hiding place of the negro gangster and arrested him without the slightest trouble although the prisoner has a bad reputation.

Fifteen years ago, Emiko, then a suburban patrol man saw two negroes enter a house. In arresting them one of the blacks struck him over the head. Emiko replied in kind with the butt of his pistol, knocking out several of the negro's front teeth and cutting a long gash in his face.

"When I made the arrest the other day, I recognized the same negro by the long scar," Emiko said.

"And he recognized me just as quickly," the Captain added.

Jury Locked Up In Houston Jail

HOUSTON, Texas, June 27.—The entire jury of the corporation court here was "locked-up" in the city jail recently.

After finishing their duties as jurors the men elected to make an inspection tour of the jail in the new police station. Someone slammed a door and it locked automatically.

Some persuasion was necessary before officer Sam White consented to release the men without an order from an official.

Rush of Students to Denton College

DENTON, Texas, June 27.—To facilitate registration of 2,600 students, at the North Texas State Teachers college, placards bearing comforting bits of advice such as "Keep Smiling," "Keep your Temper—nobody else wants it," and the like, were posted conspicuously about the college buildings.

Approximately 100 students an hour were registered for a time on one of the registration days. This was decided to be the worst rush the school has ever experienced.

HAWK ATTACKS CHILD AT VICTORIA

VICTORIA, Texas, June 27.—The six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Sauer of Arnekeville was painfully injured when attacked by a hawk while playing with several other children near its home recently.

The hawk swooped down on the children and sank its claws in the back of the little fellow's neck. It was necessary to kill the bird before its grip on the child could be broken.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Ray Butler by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1935, the same being the 6th day of August, A. D. 1935, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 10th day of March, A. D. 1935 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 3447-B, wherein Dr. J. H. Harvey is Plaintiff, and Ray Butler is Defendant, and said petition alleging that on or about September 20th, 1921, defendant executed and delivered to plaintiff his twelve several promissory notes for the sum of $100.00 each, of that date and due March 29th, 1922, each respectively, payable to the order of plaintiff, and bearing 8% interest per annum from date until paid, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees, whereby defendant became bound and liable to pay and promised plaintiff to pay him said sum of money in said notes specified together with interest and attorneys fees due thereon; said notes were given for part of the purchase money on the following real estate situated in Limestone County, Texas, to-wit: Lot No. Six in Block No. Two, Lot No. Eighteen in Block No. One, Lot No. Seventeen in Block No. One, Lot No. Eight in Block No. Two, Lot No. Nine in Block No. Two, all in Liberty Heights Addition to the town of Mexia. That said property was on September 20th, 1921, conveyed by Plaintiff to Defendant by deed, of that date in consideration among other things of the twelve notes herein described, and said deed of conveyance a lien was reserved to secure the payment of said notes; that each of said notes is due and unpaid and the defendant has failed and refused to pay said notes, or any of them, but the same are still due and unpaid; that said notes have been placed in the hands of attorneys for collection and plaintiff has contracted to pay them the 10% attorneys' fees stipulated therein.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited to appear and answer the petition herein; that he have judgment for his debt, interest, attorney's fees and costs of suit, and for the foreclosure of his lien upon the above described land and premises and that same be decreed to be sold according to law; that the sheriff or other officer executing said order of sale shall sell the purchaser of said property sold under order of sale in possession thereof within thirty days after the day of sale; and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity that he may be justly entitled to.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this 21st day of June A. D. 1935.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon G. C. Wisdom and C. M. Walker by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the first Monday in September, A. D. 1935, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1935, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 24th day of October A. D. 1932 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 3207A, wherein Farmers State Bank of Mexia, Texas, is Plaintiff, and G. C. Wisdom and C. M. Walker are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on December 2, 1921, defendant G. C. Wisdom made, executed and delivered to plaintiff his promissory note for the sum of $252.50 of that date payable to the order of plaintiff at Mexia, Texas, and due thirty days thereafter, bearing 10% interest per annum from date until paid, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees; that said note is past due and unpaid and defendant G. C. Wisdom has failed and refused and still fails and refuses to pay same or any part thereof.

Plaintiff shows that defendant C. M. Walker on June 29, 1921, made, executed and delivered to C. E. Scruggs his two certain promissory notes for the sum of $500.00 each, due twelve and eighteen months thereafter respectively, and bearing 10% interest per annum from date until paid, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees, said notes were given in part payment for the following described real estate and premises situated in the County of El Paso, State of Texas, being Section No. 12 in Block No. 7, Public School Lands in El Paso County, Texas; that said property was on June 29, 1922, conveyed by C. E. Scruggs to defendant C. M. Walker by deed of that date in consideration among other things of the two notes last above described, and did in said deed of conveyance retain a lien to secure the payment of said notes; that said notes are past due and unpaid and defendant C. M. Walker has failed and refused to pay same or any part thereof; that said notes were by written indorsement thereon duly assigned and delivered by the payee, C. E. Scruggs without recourse to defendant G. C. Wisdom, and the defendant G. C. Wisdom, by written indorsement thereon transferred, assigned and delivered said notes above described to plaintiff as collateral security and to guarantee the payment on the first note described herein.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited to appear and answer, and that upon a trial it have judgment against the defendants for its debt, interest, attorney's fees and costs of suit, and for foreclosure of the vendor's lien upon the land above described and an Order of Sale directing said property be sold and a sufficient amount of the proceeds therefrom applied to the payment of plaintiff's indebtedness, and for such other and further relief, general and special, in law and in equity that plaintiff may be justly entitled to receive.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this 21st day of June, A. D. 1935.

Johnson Wakefield, Clerk,
District Court, Limestone County.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

NO. 16
Proposing an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which relates to taxation and revenues, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, directing the Legislature to provide for the construction, operation and maintenance, under State control, of a State system of public highways, providing for an election for the ratification or rejection of amendment herein proposed, and making an appropriation to defray the expense of said election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That there be submitted to the people of Texas, for ratification or rejection at a special election provided for herein an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, amending said Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, which shall read as follows:

Section 9a. The Legislature is authorized and directed to provide for the creation, establishment, construction, maintenance and repair of a system of improved highways throughout the State to be under the control of the State; and in order that the State may provide the means, revenues and instrumentalities for the establishment and maintenance of such system of highways, the Legislature is empowered to levy and cause to be collected specific excise and ad valorem taxes, in addition of those permitted for other purposes in the Constitution, but such an ad valorem tax shall be imposed only for the purpose of retiring the bonds authorized by vote of the people of this State as provided for hereinafter in this Section.

When said system shall have been designated as taken over for the State as provided in Section 4 hereof, the Legislature is authorized to make provision for the equitable compensation to such counties for the value of such improvements as have been theretofore constructed by the Counties in the State.

Provided, also that save for the State highway system, in all other respects, Counties shall have the right to build, construct and maintain roads, turnpikes, and bridges within their respective boundaries and the Constitutional provisions relating thereto are not qualified or repealed by reason hereof.

The Legislature, at any Regular or Special Session, is authorized and directed to pass and enact all appropriate legislation necessary to carry out and effectuate the purpose and intent of these Articles.

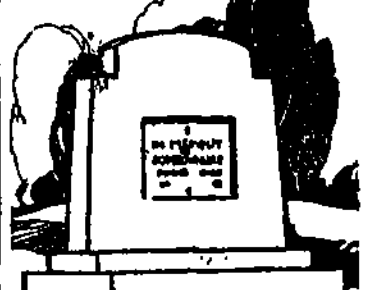

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to cause to be issued his necessary proclamation for an election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1935, at which election this amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for adoption or rejection and shall make the publication required by the Constitution and Laws of the State. Said election shall be held under and in accordance with the General Election Laws of the State, and the ballots for said election shall have printed or written thereon in plain letters the following words:

"OFFICIAL BALLOT": "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." "Against the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways."

Those voters who favor such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words "Against the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." Those who oppose such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words, "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast in such election.

Sec. 3. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses of the proclamation and publication of this amendment and the election to be held hereunder.

S. L. STAPLES,
Secretary of State.

Miners In Soft Coal Fields Escape High Rent Wave Sweeping Country; Enjoy Good Homes at Low Rentals

A coal mining community of today is not the desolate, backwoods place that is commonly pictured. On the contrary, it is a modern, up-to-date place, having advantages for those living there which few cities can boast.

The mine worker lives in a comfortable, clean, attractive house, with modern conveniences, for which he pays a rental figure that must make the city dweller tear his hair with envy. The companies build the houses and rent them to the miners, the rate of rental being figured at from $1 to $2 per room per month. Usually the higher type prevails.

The six room bungalow pictured above is almost completely surrounded by a flower and vegetable garden. It is not a leaky wooden shack or log-cabin, thrown together as a makeshift. It is built of concrete, is good to look at, and above all, is livable and comfortable. It costs the miner who lives in it with his family $12 a month at the most.

The mine workers living advantages do not end with the matter of rent. He gets his fuel in most fields for about $1 a ton. That is all it costs him for heating his house and for cooking. In some fields coal is supplied free to the miners' families. The company power plants in most cases supply light for the houses, either entirely free or at cost.

Medical aid and the services of trained nurses are supplied to the mine workers and their families in the bituminous coal fields entirely free of charge. In some fields there is a very low flat charge for medical attention and supplies. This, while it is a direct and great benefit to the families of the miners and to the miners themselves, is not charity on the part of the bituminous operators. They know the advantage that accrues to the operation of their mines from keeping their employees in good health.

The other picture shows an amusement hall in a coal mining community. It is a big, concrete building, attractively fitted up inside as a club where the miners may loaf and have a good time during their hours off duty. Investments in amusement halls, churches, school buildings, and the like have been found to be good business by far-sighted coal operators. The coal mine operator knows the value of keeping his employees contented, and affording them and their family every possible facility for comfort, education, and advancement.

FROM THE PEOPLE

Our Ball Club

Many of you that go to see a ball game, see only the machine as it whirled before your eyes. Being praised or censured as to your opinion of the players' ability. But how many of you think of the ill and the pain that possibly many of the players are pressing thru or have passed thru in their effort to give you your money's worth and a first class brand of

America's national sport. What we refer to is just this. The Mexia Base Ball Club in the first place is living up to their agreement and Contract as regards the maintaining of "bookies" on the club and while in experience they are classed as Rookies YET in their playing there is no faster aggregation in the South—their 30 is considered. This club has been gotten together for the sake of Pure Sport and with NO monetary object in view? They have fought nobly and manfully for the standing they have maintained—that is leading their league almost from the start. And ALL this in spite of a bunch of cripples. Hub Northen, our able manager, will tell that he has not had a Full Regular pitching staff all year. This was caused by un-avoidable injuries to the players. The pitchers require rest—we all know that—and with out their arms go to the bad. Yet the few that we have had have been worked exceedingly hard and fast. They have accepted their appointments with not a complaint and this article is written strictly to let Mexia and her citizens know what a Spartan spirit has pervaded our local club. Had we been able to pull thru the first part of the season to date without the great handicap of injuries we today would be at least ten games of our nearest contender. We are not complaining—we are not allying, but these are facts and truth will prevail. Our fielders have also been seriously injured and with the handicap of crippled pitchers would have taken the heart out of any other Manager save Hub Northen. Hub has fought a game, hard, uphill fight and to say that he has gotten the very best out of his boys does not tell half the tale. He is loyal to his men and to the Mexia fans and we are with him tooth and toenail—and as we all know a ball club is like an army—it must have a leader, this the Mexia Club has. So when they return turn out strong, pathronize the club. You may not be such an ardent Base Ball fan, but relax from the every day grind of business cares and go. You will live longer and much happier. Sport to some people is an idle pastime. But it is said of Old England that many battles have been won on the field of Manly Sport. Foreign writers attribute America's great supremacy in the world war to our supremacy in sports. There is much to learn out there where muscle and brawn play so important a part and where head work makes up the difference. So think this over—Mexia with a good ball club will be a bigger Mexia. You go and try to make it bigger in this way. Give our boys credit for their work—they draw pay but your attendance will do them more good, when it comes to heart interest than the monthly pay check. In justice to Mexia it is stated that she patronizes her ball club much better than any other town in the league—but keep this up and go further—make them all talk of our attendance. Give them your moral support as well as financial. Talk to them when you see them and let Hub Northen and the boys know that you are proud of them—they are human just as you and I—and you know what a pat on the back means—provided you have a soul within you. Do this for Mexia. Selah.—Fred S. Karner.

Mrs. Ernest Watson and Ernest Jr., and Mrs. H. S. Bennett are visiting in Dallas for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stevens.

T. V. McGannon and Edna McCready will be married Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Father Kelly. They are both from Kansas City and are the guests of Mrs. M. L. McGannon.

Among the Mexia friends who drove to Corsicana last evening to attend the Casparis-Jackson wedding was Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bass and Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Karner.

Miss Lillian Rovillo who has been nurse, recently at the Brown hospital was married Tuesday at Cleburne to Fred Bertland an employee of the Gulf Production company.

Mrs. Corinne Anderson of New Orleans who was a nurse in the Charity hospital, has accepted a position as nurse at the Brown hospital.

Dame Rumor has it that one of Mexia's leading young business eligibles will take unto himself a wife on a date supposed to be one week from next Sunday. Fine. Come to Mexia.

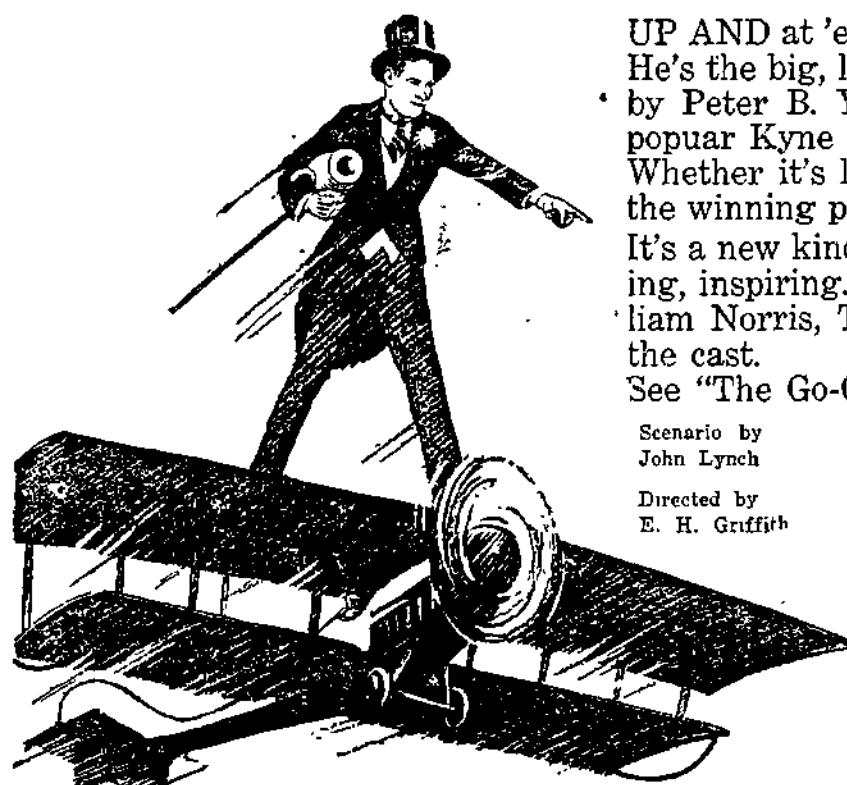

Jack Womack returned from Corsicana on the noon train after attending the wedding ceremonies of his niece Miss Argoo Jackson to James Casparis in Corsicana last evening.

Mrs. Rome Rust and Mrs. Frances Craig are entertaining some of their friends at the Playgrounds club house this afternoon in a game of bridge.

The Mexia Dry Goods Company will not be here many more days! The time is drawing near when we will have to make our departure. By July 14th we expect to have our stock sold down so low that we will have scarcely anything to dispose of.

To do this, we've got to sell thousands of dollars worth of merchandise within the next few days. We are sacrificing all profits in order to clear our store---passing the profits on to our customers who will benefit according to their purchases. Every line in our store has been reduced--and every salesperson in our store has been instructed to sell the goods regardless of cost price.

Let us urge you to come to our store immediately and purchase your supply for months to come!

Five Oklahoma Counties On Edge Of Martial Law

Governor Says Will Stamp Out Mob Rule

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 27.—Five other Oklahoma counties are "on the ragged edge of martial law" Governor Walton declared. "I mean to stop mob violence and will put every county under martial law is necessary," said Walton.

TULSA, Ok., June 27.—Four units of the National Guard, comprising about 100 men, commanded by Brig. Gen. Alva J. Niles, were to entrain here this morning for duty at Okmulgee, where martial law was proclaimed by Governor J. C. Walton yesterday.

OKMULGEE, Ok., June 27.—Six National Guard companies were administering the law in Okmulgee county today.

The blanket proclamation signed by Governor Walton late yesterday supercedes all civil law in the county with the military.

Billie Jean, the eleven-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bartlett of this city, is in the hospital suffering from the effects of a fall he received Saturday morning when he fell off the door step and hit upon his head, rendering him unconscious. He has never regained consciousness up to the present time. The physicians hold very little hope for the little fellow and it is understood that they may perform an operation upon his head and try to take the blood from off the brain.

Dr. Luther B. Bridgers and his singer, H. S. Jenkins, were the chief entertainers at the Salesmanship club at noon today. On account of so many Salesmen going to Waco for the baseball game, the attendance was cut down to 21, the smallest number since the organization began in the first part of the year. It was, however, an enjoyable occasion for those present.

The Mexia Rotary Club will hold its regular weekly luncheon Thursday at noon. Dr. T. F. Oates is leader. An interesting program has been planned. Dr. C. C. Bayless will tender a report of the convention at St. Louis and Dr. Luther B. Bridgers will also be present to deliver a short address.

KANSAS CITY.—After searching two years for a gang of counterfeiters, Federal agents arrested two inmates of the county poor farm. The men raised $2 bills to $10, the officers charged.

KANSAS CITY.—Although the jury was 11 to 1 for conviction and still out, Leo Graves, charged with robbery, got a new trial. The judge ordered a re-trial when the foreman volunteered an announcement of how the jury stood.

DALLAS, Tex., June 27.—No heat relief was promised by the weather bureau today. Following yesterday's record temperature of the year—98. Increasing cloudiness was in prospect today, however, which may mean some slight mitigation of the extreme heat, it was said.

Late German Financier in British Divorce

Commander George Douglas Campbell, of the British Navy, has asked London courts to dissolve his marriage. Mrs. Marie Aleide Campbell, the defendant, is charged with misconduct with Hans Burt, Baron Treusch van Buttlar-Brandenfels, who is now dead, but who in his lifetime was one of the leaders of German finances.

July The 4th Plans Are Now Being Formed

Mrs. Sam Cox and scores of other ladies of Mexia are very much interested in a patriotic observance of July the Fourth in Mexia. The various clubs of the city will likely join in whole heartedly with any and all efforts to celebrate the day here as befits an American people. Plans are being laid for a big open air sing-song and speaking at the Baseball park at ten o'clock in the morning of the Fourth. At that time, patriotic songs will be sung and an address of Americanism by Dr. Luther B. Bridgers is in prospect.

Mrs. Cox calls attention of the citizens to the opportunity that their automobiles give them for a worthy display of national colors. The fourth is only a few days off and by beginning now, Mexia is certain to do something worth while.

Business houses are also urged to decorate their places in the national colors and with the Stars and Stripes. The service in the morning will not interfere with the plans of any who may want to go to the baseball game at Corsicana in the afternoon, to Teahuacana for the big dinner there or to the Playgrounds by the Navasota or elsewhere.

Mrs. Cox was one of the delegates to the state meeting of Federated Women's clubs and at that time there was a general agreement that the Fourth of July would be properly observed throughout Texas. The ladies of Mexia may be counted on to co-operate.

A Groesbeck Boy Distinguished Self At Vanderbilt Uni.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS: GROESBECK, June 27.—Robert Cheatham Cralle, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cralle of Groesbeck has been awarded a scholarship in the School of Law for making the best general grade for first year work at Vanderbilt University.

Mr. Cralle graduated from Rice Institute with an A. B. degree in June 1922. In 1918 he received a $50.00 medal and scholarship from Powell University Training School for highest grade in Senior High School. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The Army And Navy Called For By Pro Leaders

By EARL J. JOHNSON.

United Press Staff Correspondent. WESTERVILLE, Ohio, June 27.—Demands that President Harding yield the full force of the army and navy against liquor law violations were made in resolutions placed before the $1,000,000 war council of national dry leaders today.

Other resolutions called on the Federal Government to extend America's territorial waters twelve miles from shore to combat rum running on the Atlantic coast.

Administration Hall, on the sleepy campus of Otterbein college today became the "dry capitol" of the United States as fifty high officials of the Anti-Saloon League resumed discussions preliminary to their renewed fight to dry up the country.

The League's general counsel, Wayne B. Wheeler, presented historical evidence intended to show that three-mile limit is out of date. His version is that the imaginary line three miles from shore was drawn in the Eighteenth Century on the basis of the distance a coast defence cannon of that day would shoot.

Every dollar of the League's annual income of approximately $2,000,000, will be thrown into the war on State prohibition repealer, P. A. Baker, general superintendent declared in an interview with the United Press.

"Prohibition today is purely theatrical," said Baker. "Our campaign is to make it a reality."

The League's slogan for the present is "Dry America first."

After that, instead of turning over its huge reform machine to other crusaders, the league intends to carry its dry fight abroad.

Baker replied to the suggestion that the wet enemy once defeated the League might itself inter in anti-tobacco fight by pointing out several cuspides near the assembly room.

"The puffed cheeks you see here are not tooth aches," he said smiling. "No, our first virtue is sincerity."

H. R. Martin of Corsicana, was a Mexia visitor Tuesday.

COCA COLA KING WEDS STENOGRAPHER

While his lawyers were trying to compromise the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Mrs. Onetime de Bouchelle, New Orleans society leader, Asa G. Candler, Coca Cola King and the South's richest man, of Atlanta, Georgia, quietly married Mrs. May Little Ragin, 30, a public stenographer. Mrs. Ragin, a widow, is the mother of 10-year-old twin daughters, Julia and Mary, who may inherit part of their stepfather's millions.

Worldliness of Church Members Denounced Without Fear or Favor By Evangelist At The Revival

"He that committeth sin is of the devil: for the devil sinneth from the beginning. . . . Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin: for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin because he is born of God."—First John 3rd chapter and parts of the 8th and 9th verses.

The worldliness of church members was discussed by the evangelist Tuesday night, when the sermon of the occasion was centered around parts of the eighth and ninth verses of the third Chapter of First John. He did not mince words but hit straight out, regardless of whom the message might hit.

The song service was inspirational under the leadership of Mr. H. S. Jenkins.

The song and prayer service each evening is one of the fine features of the revival as well as the gospel preaching of Dr. Bridgers.

There is no question about the future of Christianity, if the church keeps clean and strong and Christ-like, he asserted at the outset. No nation was ever destroyed from the outside, he pointed out. Internal dissension, civil strife and weakness within are more dangerous to the people than the attack of outside and foreign foes. The church can only be safe as its members make it. The hardest thing in the world is to pull a sinner to the altar and mourners' bench over the backs of backslidden and wicked church members. It is hard to fight evil when others in the church participate in gambling, in drinking, in worldliness and do not stand up for right and Jesus Christ. A man cannot be a sinner and a Christian at one and the same time. There are some people who say they cannot sin, but where there is one such person there are thousands of the opposite and equally dangerous belief that they simply have to sin, that they could not keep from it, if they would. Religion means more than such a cheap interpretation. Religion means more than red tape. If man tramples God's Holy Day, he is a sinner in the sight of God. We hear of sin in Mexia, of the desecration of the Sabbath, of liquor drinking and bootlegging, of girls being debauched, of roadside parties, of homes being wrecked and many other shameful sins and disgraces. "But I tell you, you will have a town just like your churches want it to be. Sin in Mexia today is due to the tolerance and indifference of worldly church members. Men try to prove that they have got to sin harder than they try to keep from sinning. Proud inconsistent church members are dangerous to church life. They want to serve the devil and retain their church membership. I am contending for a higher standard of living. Sin cannot be made respectable."

The Sabbath must be kept, if Christianity is to survive. When a nation begins to desecrate and disregard the Holy day, then that people begin the downward journey to dishonor and oblivion. It means something to be a church member. Christians must draw the line between right and wrong. A consistent Christian will not attend Sunday baseball. O! I have done said it and ruined myself here now. You will know it, too, when you stand before the great judgment bar of God. Some folks think that it is all right to go to church and keep half of the Sabbath and then turn around and desecrate the other half, by going to baseball games. The Sabbath cannot be kept holy in no such fashion. The Christian and consistent church member must keep the whole commandment. (This portion of the discourse, was interspersed with a number of "Amen's" from the pastor, W. B. Andrews). Mexia can have a baseball team and a good one, too, without disregarding God's law. The support of the good people of this place is essential for the team. Give it to them, and then you will have the respect of that other element who attends Sunday baseball games and curses the church and the religion of their fathers. I had rather have fewer pleasures and Christ than many pleasures without Christ. If we could get the ministry around the altar rail; the board of stewards and deacons and elders and organists and

Goode Trial Is Scheduled To Open Next There

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 27.—The fate of Tom Ross is with the jury, but no verdict has yet been returned. The Goode trial is scheduled to start today.

Delay, caused by a sick juror, held up the trial of Tom Ross and the jury was to consider his guilt or innocence today, having failed to receive the case early yesterday afternoon.

In instructions to the jury the court declared that it "it believed from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that Tom Ross unlawfully and with malice aforethought shot and killed W. D. Allison" he should be "found guilty of murder and punishment assessed at death or by confinement in the state penitentiary for life or for any term of years not less than five, to be determined by the jury."

The defendant must be acquitted of murder "unless the jury believes beyond a reasonable doubt" Ross built, the instructions held.

Ross and Milt Goode were indicted in connection with the murder of Allison and H. L. Roberson, cattle inspectors, at Eminole, Texas, April 1. Goode's trial will be begun as soon as Ross' is concluded.

GAME WARDEN'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY NEFF

AUSTIN, June 27.—The resignation of C. F. Simmons, as chief deputy game warden, was tendered to the governor, the result of differences with the Fish and Game Commissioner. The latter requested the resignation. It is understood. Simmons had prepared stringent recommendations following the investigation of the department, and a re-organization of the department may result. Simmons' resignation was accepted.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Ed Walthall, 42, brought his marriage license back to the county clerk. "She changed her mind since the other night when the moon was out," he said. The was to have been June bride who balked was Miss Lida Whalen, 24.

choirs and church members at the mourners bench and bathe the holy place in tears of penitence, it would be such a glorious scene that the angels in heaven would bend over the battlements of that happy land and sing and rejoice in gladness.

The heart of humanity today is hungry for old time salvation. (Read the 5th and 6th chapter of Romans.)

There are church members who pray without sincerity. They ask God to forgive them for sins which they know then and there that they are going to get out and commit again next day. You cannot sponge on God's free grace in any such way. You can't fool God. You can't hide your wickedness in behind some one else. Some folks say that if their conscience says it's all right, then it's all right. There never was a more misleading doctrine. According to God's Holy Word, Reason should be the deciding factor. We are too anxious to appear broad gauged! God help us to be narrow enough to walk in the straight and narrow way. The soul that sinneth shall surely die. The subject at the morning service today was on "The Fatherhood of God."

Tonight's subject will be "The Fruits of Repentance."

Klan Higher Ups To Speak Tonight To Waco K. K. K.s

WACO, June 27.—Klansmen from throughout the Waco province are pouring in today to a meeting that is to be held tonight at which H. C. McCall, Grand Dragon, and H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard, are scheduled to speak regarding the controversy raging between Evans and William A. Simmons, Klan emperor. It is understood that the meeting will be open to the public.

WESTMINSTER, Pa.—"I was arrested once for shooting craps," an applicant for naturalization papers told Judge Haus. The jurist ruled that craps is a disease and not a crime and granted the citizenship papers.

CHICAGO.—Felix Politowitz went into county court to protest taxes and was seized for John Politowitz, wanted on an insanity charge. Two months later he was released from an Elgin asylum when a brother-in-law proved Felix wasn't John.

United Press Staff Correspondent. PEKIN, June 27.—Fire swept through the forbidden city today.

The ancient Imperial historical hall, containing ancestral relics of all the Emperors, was destroyed together with dozens of smaller buildings surrounding it.

Wooden plaques, upon which were carved the histories of dynasties stretching back into almost forgotten ages, were devoured by the flames and stories many centuries before Christ wiped out forever.

According to seemingly authentic reports, the fire was of incendiary origin. Servants are said to have sold valuable curios to Americans and British tourists and to have set fire to the ancestral hall to escape detection.

Little credit is attached to reports that the fire resulted from a plot to drive the Emperor from Peking. The Imperial Palace was not damaged, according to police, and the Emperor's life was not threatened.

Governor Appoints Judges For the New Court Civil Appeals

AUSTIN, June 27.—Governor Neff today announced appointment of judges of the newly created Tenth court of civil appeals at Waco as follows:

W. C. Davis, Bryan; George W. Barcus, Waco, and James M. Robertson, Meridian. Barcus and Robertson took the oath of office before Chief Justice Cureton of the Supreme Court this morning and Davis will qualify within a few days.

Judge Davis, who has held a district judgeship at Bryan, will be chief justice of the new court. Barcus and Robertson are lawyers of prominence.

The Waco Court was created by the second called legislative session over Governor Neff's veto. It was stated the court will be organized immediately, but probably will not begin functioning until the close of the summer recess in October.

Action of the governor in naming the new court indicates that he will approve the appropriation for its support, contained in the judiciary appropriation bill.

FARMERS SHOULD ORGANIZE

The value of farm organizations was presented to the National Wheat Conference at Chicago by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor Wednesday. "If wage earners had not organized nobody would have listened to their demands, and if the farmers expect to be listened to they must do likewise," said the great labor leader.

There was not one in the conference better capacitated to talk on organization and its potential values than was Mr. Gompers. As leader of the hosts of labor he has given years of his life to thought and study of organization methods, the extent to which they should go and the limit to be placed upon their operations.

He speaks well within the truth when he says that had not labor organized it would have found few to listen to it; but when it speaks collectively instead of individually, the world gives heed. Farmers could well profit by the record of the labor organizations in accomplishing the tasks they have undertaken, while avoiding the mistakes made that militated against them and rendered progress and development more difficult than otherwise would have been in the case.

It is generally conceded that the main reason farming is unprofitable is the lack of organization and the cohesiveness that properly belongs with it. There is much to be said in commendation of individual effort, without which there can be no reward. But there comes times when the individual can best help himself and render a better service to his community by acting co-operatively with his fellows than by pulling alone. And when this condition faces him, he should seek the aid of his neighbors and the friendly co-operation of his neighbor in securing the things that will make not only for his personal betterment, but for the betterment of the community.

The trouble with the farming class has been, and it prevails to a great extent today, is that they have not learned that they are merchants as well as producers. That they have something to sell that should be sold in a businesslike way and in accordance with business rules and principles. They know something is wrong somewhere and too many of them have tried to locate the trouble in the legislative halls of the state and nation. They have been encouraged to look there for remedies for their ills by designing politicians who selfishly prostitute a good and worthy cause to ignoble ends. They have been riding the farmers and the toiling class for years and the strange part of it is that they are still sitting in the saddle despite their failure to accomplish the things promised.

Class legislation will wholly fail to bring the relief producers hope for and must have it they succeed. Class legislation is the bane of progress and prosperity for it is the basis of discontent; and no country can prosper or progress when any number of the people are discontented and unhappy. All any citizen should require of his government is fair and just laws, laws that will give no special privilege or work an unjust hardship upon one class to the exclusion of another.

Given this with the aid of business co-operation through organizations formed for mutual help and assistance—organizations kept free from the blighting touch of politics and farming will develop into the most profitable business in the nation. Let it be understood once and for all that supply and demand are basic principles which no legislation can alter or change or repeal. Having that thought in mind and with selling agencies established in accordance with that fundamental law those who farm and raise what the world must have to live on will control the markets and make their vocations worth while.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA & DANGER

Medical Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)

The newly elected officers of the Masonic lodge will be installed tonight, after which refreshments will be served. Visitors are invited.

ACTOR RISKS LIFE

FLAGGING TRAIN IN "THE GO-GETTER"

Defying death when he flagged an express train traveling at a speed of forty miles an hour, T. Roy Barnes, who plays the featured role of Bill Peck in the Paramount-Cosmopolitan production of "The Go-Getter," which comes to the National theatre Thursday, gave a distinct thrill to Director Griffith and the engine driver of the train, who were seated in the cab.

During the filming of the aeroplane-express train scenes of the picture Mr. Barnes stood between the rails. After alighting from an aeroplane Mr.

Barnes soaked his coat in gasoline and, lighting it, takes his place between the rails and waves the flaming garment at the train, which is speeding down upon him. The train thundered along at a distance of twenty yards and still the actor stood in its path wildly waving his blazing torch.

"Get off!" shouted Director Griffith, waving his arms frantically at Barnes, who still maintained his position. "You're a dead man in another second!"

But Barnes was too cool a hand to allow himself to be ground to pieces. Giving the express a leeway of fifteen feet, Barnes jumped to safety just as the ponderous engine swept by, covering him with dust. The emergency brake had been set by the engine driver and the train came to a halt within fifty yards. The director remonstrated with Barnes for his daring, but the actor merely laughed at the incident.

Seena Owen is featured with Mr. Barnes in this thrilling photoplay, as are also William Norris, Tom Lewis and Louis Wolheim.

OFF FOR SUMMER

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stevens and lovely little daughter Elizabeth, and Fred Reeves, will leave Thursday in automobile for an extended trip which will carry them to the homes of relatives and friends in many Southern states. Among the states in which they will stop are, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia and Maryland. They are looking forward to the trip with much pleasure. For several months, they have been making their plans and would have left two weeks ago, had it not been for the heavy rains that fell about that time. This will be the longest vacation that Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have ever taken and it may be September before they are home again.

NEED FOR UNIFORMITY IN BUSINESS LAWS

How Collection of Just Debts May
Be Prevented by Differing
State Statutes.

An effort to bring about better coordination and greater uniformity among state laws dealing with business and banking is being made by the American Bankers Association.

It is pointed out that, although the country is a unit commercially, and citizens of any one state may do business that reaches all over the country, most laws governing business transactions are made by the different states, with application limited to their own local jurisdictions and often in conflict with laws in other states. It is held that state laws should be uniform so that the same transaction will not be subject to different sets of rules according as state laws differ.

To illustrate the disadvantages of conflicting laws, the following illustration is given: Mr. Jones lives in New York where the statute of limitations outlaws a note in six years. He falls into the error of assuming that the same rule prevails everywhere. He visits Maryland and loans $1,000 to his friend, Mr. Smith, taking a promissory note. As the note carries interest Mr. Jones is in no hurry for his money and he believes Smith to be financially responsible. Finally at the end of four years Jones concludes he has loaned Smith the money long enough and seeks to collect the note from him. But Smith can deny liability and point to the statute of Maryland which Jones is surprised to learn outlaws a note after three years.

Changes Recommended

The particular subjects of legislation recommended by the association for enactment by State legislatures during 1923 include uniform acts on negotiable instruments, bills of lading, warehouse receipts, stock transfer, and fiduciaries.

Under the head of laws for better protection of banks in particular, transactions are proposed measures dealing with limiting liability on certified checks; instruments based on gambling or unscrupulous consideration; time limit on stop payment; payment of state check; adverse claim to bank deposit; payment of forged or raised checks; deposits in two names; deposit in trust; competency of bank and corporation notaries; non-payment of check through error; Saturday afternoon bank transactions, and forwarding check direct to payor.

Under the Federal Reserve and foreign banking are recommended laws on membership of state institutions in Federal Reserve System, and foreign banking. Penal laws proposed deal with false statements for credit; slander and libel of banks; checks or drafts without funds; burglary with explosives.

banner trade year, both in imports and exports, $36,376,855.

The principal articles purchased from American manufacturers during 1922 in the order of their value follow:

Tinplate and manufactures thereof	$6,113,271
Machinery, mining, pumping, etc.	2,013,326
Petroleum products	1,733,315
Lumber	1,658,734
Tobacco	723,032
Explosives	627,002

The bulk of the trade of course was in foodstuffs and clothing, for Alaska is totally dependent upon outside sources for the principal food products, her development not yet having turned into agricultural channels.

If Alaska were a great nation figuring her prosperity in terms of trade balances, the territory would congratulate herself. In all the years of her recent development it has sent more goods to the United States than it has bought, ample proof that "Seward was right."

"THE GO-GETTER" COMING

The Paramount Cosmopolitan production, "The Go-Getter," will be the feature on the bill at the National theatre Thursday. The story, written by Peter B. Kyne, is a fast moving comedy-drama, in which T. Roy Barnes, Seena Owen, William Morris, Tom Lewis and Louis Wolheim are the featured players. The supporting cast is strong. E. H. Griffith, who supervises the screening of many of Peter Kyne's stories, directed.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself."

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart."

"This nervous condition was worse than pain."

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it."

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well."

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

Big Crowd "Got Ozie Lewis' Goat" At Reunion Grounds Tuesday Night

Mr. and Mrs. Ozie Lewis were hosts to a large gathering of relatives and friends at their "camp" at the Reunion Grounds Tuesday evening when they served a goat barbecue with all the traditional trimmings, and if you don't think it was a feast just ask Whit Brodnax, that is, if he is able to be up after eating a quarter of a well cooked goat. Whit is some eater.

The outing was given honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Schutts and children of Fort Worth, Mrs. Schutts being a sister of Mr. Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Comfort, cousins of the hosts, and was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind ever pulled off at the famous play grounds.

There were present the following Mexiaites:

Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Oates and daughter, Miss Ada; Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Smith and little son, Benjamin; Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Priddy, Mrs. Joe Stevens and son, John Davis; Mrs. J. M. Patton, Miss Lizzie Mae Parker, Miss Betty Karner Kennedy, W. J. Hayter, C. G. White, Mr. and Mrs. Whit Brodnax and children, Major N.

P. Haux and grand daughters, Misses Luptie and Andrea Betts, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lyell.

Out of Town Guests

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Pyburn and children, of Coolidge; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Comfort and son, James of Corsicana; Mrs. Smith Comfort, of Corsicana; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Schutts and children, of Fort Worth; Miss Bettie Joe Kennedy, of Chickasha, Okla.

After the feast, some of the younger set enjoyed a dip in the swimming pool and others just sat around and enjoyed an hour in friendly chat with the friends there gathered.

It was an enjoyable outing and will long be remembered by those present.

Chas. Wolverton was over from Mart, Tuesday visiting his mother, Mrs. V. Wolverton, and other relatives.

ALASKA GOOD BUY FOR

By WM. J. LO...

(United Press Staff)

WASHINGTON

When President H...

Alaska is one of the most...

estate buys in history.

Chased by Lincoln's secretary of...

ate, William Seward, from Russia in...

1867 for $7,200,000, the territory is...

now netting Uncle Sam a profit of...

about 700 per cent per annum.

When Seward made the purchase, cynical Americans dubbed it "Steward's Folly" and agreed that he could have spent the money more profitably in buying from England an exclusive concession to sell ice to Canadian Eskimos.

A study of the statistics of trade between the United States and Alaska in 1922 proves who was right.

During the year 1922, Alaska shipped to the United States products valued at $48,590,532. In 1921, it shipped products worth $34,559,130 and in 1920, $57,742,997 from 7 to 8 times its purchase price. These figures are exclusive of shipments of gold and silver, which, astounding as it may seem to those who dream of Alaska as a vast treasure house of precious metals and little else, amounted to only $7,431,

$75 in 1922 and $7,350,092 in 1921.

Canned Salmon Leads

Heading the list of goods shipped from Alaska to descendants of the enemies of Seward's time, during all the three past years, was canned salmon, ughboy's "Goldfish," 220,785,073

ounds of it, valued at $29,487,026.

Every soldier in the A. E. F. will swear that they shipped 100 times that much to France in 1918, but the trade statistics shatter this belief, proving 1922 to be the banner year in the canned salmon industry.

The second article in importance in Alaska products shipped to the United States was copper ore, matter and regulus, worth $9,883,444 in 1922 and $14,006,477 in 1922.

The third important exported product was "furs other than sealskin" which netted the trappers $2,747,101

in 1922. Sealskins exported in 1922

totalled 32,005 skins valued at $314, 190.

The only other products whose shipments from Alaska in 1922 totalled over $1,000,000 were companions of the canned salmon, dried, smoked and curried fish, whose exported value in 1922 was $2,402,914, and all canned fish

other than salmon, valued at $1,395, 267.

Valuable Export Field

From the American businessman's point of view, Alaska's value to the United States is in its importance as a market for his products rather than as a source of raw materials however valuable and remunerative. The trade statistics show that "Seward's Folly" is a valuable though not enormously important export field.

In 1922 its purchases from the United States totalled $26,777,806; in 1921,

$19,274,215, and in 1920, the territory's

QUICK ACTION BRAKES EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

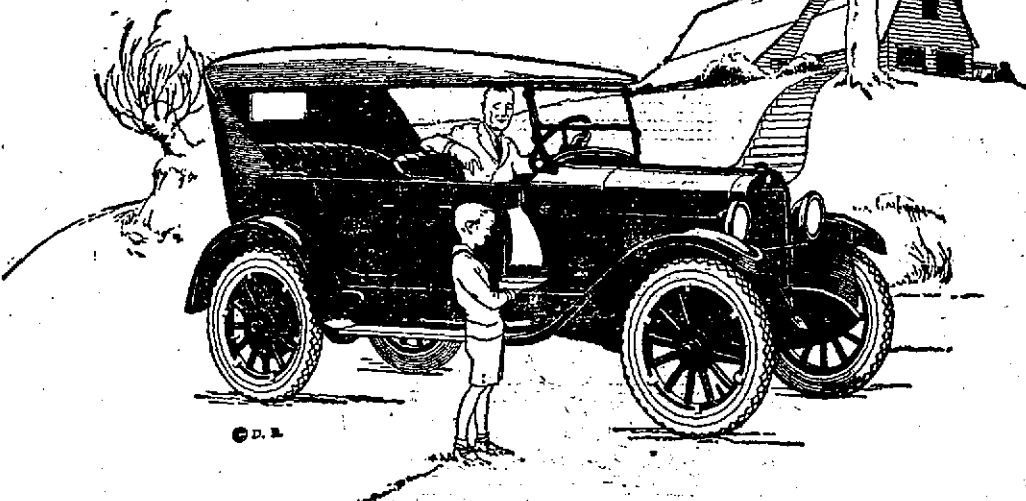

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2 1/4 inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

Waco Indians Defeat Mexia Gushers 4-3 Sherman Win Put Mexia-Sherman Tied

The Waco Indians pulled the Gushers down into a tie for first place honors with Sherman, who hammered Johnson of the Rangers for an easy win, by defeating them by the score of 4 to 3.

It seems to me that the Rangers are resting a while so that things will be different when the game for today is over and the rag has gone to some one. But the Indians are dragging the old ball for all it is worth.

Things were rather quiet, so says Jinx Tucker, as only three players were banished from the park. Manager Reynolds of the Indians and Manager Northern and Lefty McCarty of the Gushers. That Waco bunch must be used to a lot of fussing over there and I don't guess that they would call it a ball game unless some one was put out of the park.

West, a new umpire who claims Austin as his abode, officiated in the leading role and Jinx Tucker says he was presented with a wreath after wreath of razzberries and from what we can gather there was a lot of bum guesses made one of which counted for the Indians winning score.

Tiner and Schmid hooked up in a brilliant duel and Tiner had the worst end of the fray. In the fourth with two out, Northern having gone out on a hit and run play when Bechtol failed to connect with the ball, Bechtol slapped the horsehide over right field fence for four bases.

Waco tied the score in the fourth, with one out, Untz walked, Schroyer doubled down right field line and Untz knowing that Northern possessed a weak wing started for home. Hub relayed the ball home and West ruled Untz safe on a close play. Northern came in from right field vigorously protesting the decision and West sent him to the club house and McCarty was sent in the same direction as Hub for using abusive language.

The same teams play there this afternoon and if the Gushers win and Austin decides to take the game from the Sox, Mexia will rest with the rag for the first half. Lefty Ferguson will be the likely nominee for the Redskins and it is presumed that "Hard Luck" Charley Johnson will start for the Gushers.

FORMER MAYOR DE LEON HARP IN CITY ON SUMMER TRIP

De Leon Harp, now resident of San Antonio and former Mayor of Mexia, reached here Tuesday afternoon accompanied by his wife and daughter Miss Eva Mae on their way to Minnesota. Judge Harp states he had a most pleasant trip here in his Buick Sedan—leaving San Antonio about six o'clock in the morning and reaching his destination in Mexia at four-thirty. The party leaves Mexia about noon Wednesday on their way North and after a visit in Minnesota, they travel West to Yellowstone Park and then through Denver to their home in San Antonio.

The Judge is looking fit and fine, the picture of health and vigor and his many friends rejoice in his complete recovery after his strenuous labors here during the oil boom days. The brief time here was spent in the home of her sister, Mrs. R. E. Hickman.

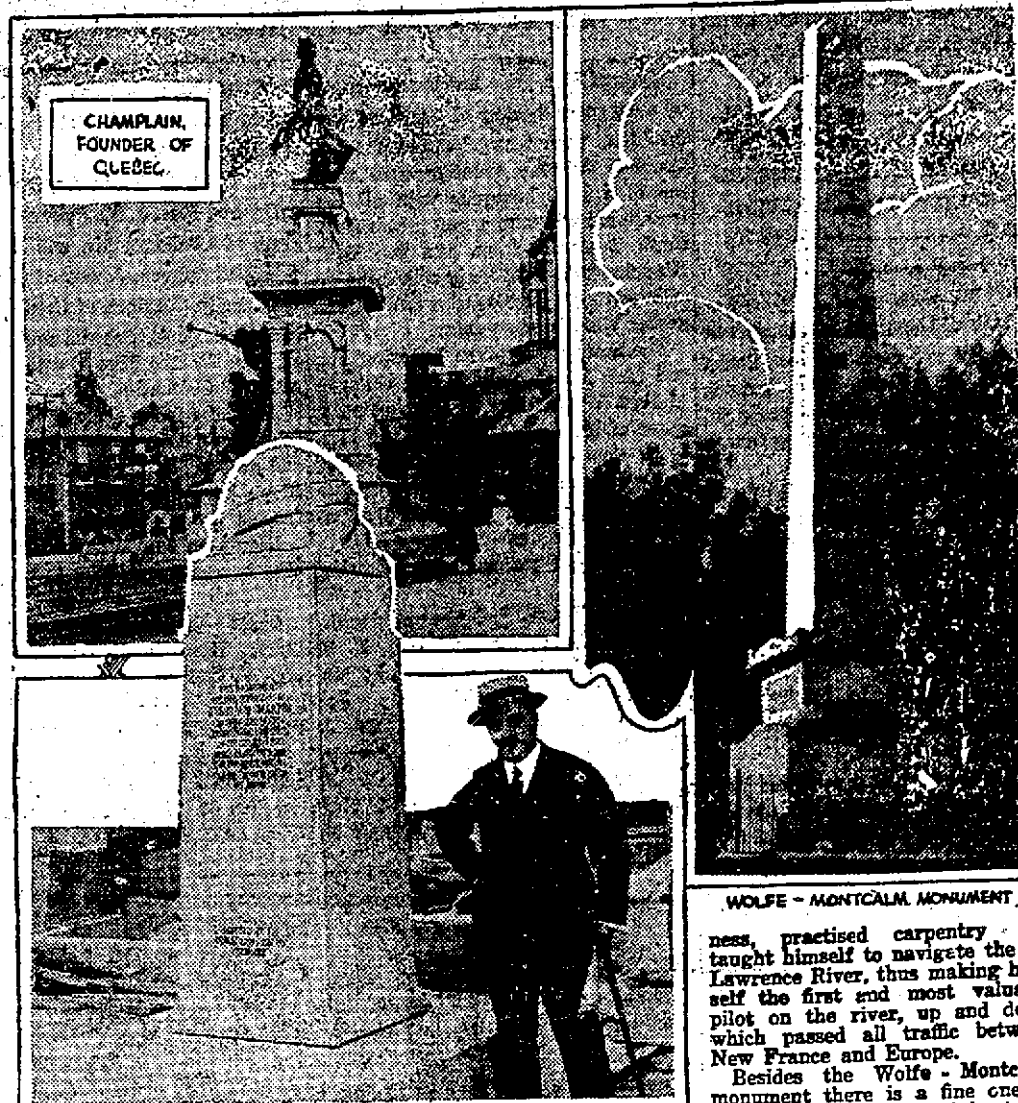

McFALL NEARING NACHITOCHE SAND

The test on the McFall tract, four miles northeast of town, is now drilling around 1400 feet. R. H. Vice stated that the drill had penetrated to a depth of 1350 feet by early this morning. Since then he has not been to the operation, but so far more than one hundred feet daily has been the average and with the same progress, the Nachitoches sand should be reached within the next few hours. If found to be encouraging at all, the operators will stop where they are and develop the shallow sand before proceeding on down.

Mrs. Tommy Haines was hostess for the Humphreys bridge club Monday morning. She had three tables of bridge and her guest were: Miss Gertrude Newman, Miss Sally Pengilly, Mrs. Rome Rust, Mrs. Warren Dale, Miss Ruth Roller, Mrs. Bud Hennington. Miss Newman won the guest prize and Mrs. Weems Craig won the club members prize. The prize was a beautiful hand painted vase.

QUEBEC HONORS WORTHY CITIZENS AS WELL AS WAR HEROES

HENRI HEBERT, SCULPTOR, AND HIS MEMORIAL TO ABRAHAM MARTIN

Quebec is essentially a city of monuments. Every old house and church is wreathed in historical lore and legend and many modern buildings occupy famous sites. As the years pass by, the number of bronze and marble memorials raised in honor of men who were dominating characters in the early life of the city and province as well as to military heroes, grows apace. For over a century Quebec was almost constantly a battle ground on which a British-French duel was fought. Here was endured the long agony of the Iroquois Indian warfare; here were staged the sieges of Admiral Kirk in 1629 and of Sir William Phips in 1690. But the greatest battle fought over these historic cliffs was that of the Plains of Abraham when the British General Wolfe stealthily scaled the supposedly impregnable walls of the French stronghold with 3,000 men and won a lasting victory for British arms. Both Wolfe and Montcalm, the French leader, met their deaths through this battle. That the victory was one of more than military prestige is proclaimed by the stately shaft that stands in the Governor's Garden above Dufferin Terrace between the Citadel and Chateau Frontenac, and which was raised to the memory of these two heroes. However, not only military achievements are associated with the Plains of Abraham, but they remind us of Abraham Martin, the first Canadian Scotsman and the first St. Lawrence River pilot, who received this ground as a grant from Champlain, the founder of Quebec. Although a Scot by birth, Martin was born in France, and accepting the land from his government, redeemed it from the wilderness, practiced carpentry and taught himself to navigate the St. Lawrence River, thus making himself the first and most valuable pilot on the river, up and down which passed all traffic between New France and Europe. Besides the Wolfe-Montcalm monument there is a fine one to Wolfe, another to Champlain standing on a prominent site with the whole city spread about its foot, and still another fine memorial to Queen Victoria. Other memorials are scattered about the city's outskirts, including one to Jacques Cartier, the discoverer of Canada; and a 65-foot fluted bronze column bearing on opposite sides the names of Murray and de Lévis and the arms of the British and French. Every foot of ground in this ancient capital is historic ground; the Post Office stands on the site of an Indian Fort built in 1649; the Roman Catholic Seminary and Laval University occupy the farm of Louis Hebert, the land of which he cleared and on which he built the first house in Quebec, while the towering Chateau Frontenac rises above the ashes of Chateau St. Louis, colonial headquarters for 200 years, part of the foundation stones of the old structure being included in today's modern hotel.

COLONEL HUMPHREYS OFF TO COLORADO

Col. A. E. Humphreys and officials of the Humphreys Oil Co. left Tuesday afternoon for Dallas to attend the Stockholders meeting in the Dallas offices of the company. Albert Humphreys Jr., arrived on the noon train Tuesday to return with the party. Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Humphreys also joined the party and after the meeting they hurry on to Denver and Cheyenne for a polo tournament in which Mr. Humphreys plays. After which they join Colonel Humphreys at his lodge in the mountains of Southwestern Colorado known to his many friends here as Wagon Wheel Gap.

Mrs. J. W. Lanning entertained Tuesday morning in honor of Mrs. J. H. Baker of Delphi, La. There were three tables of bridge and those winning prizes were Mrs. Baker who won high score and Miss Ruth Kahn the guest prize and Miss Christine Kendrick won second.

Pres. Harding Says Political Forces Are Committing Historic Blunders Management Regarding Prohibition

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
United Press Staff Correspondent.
DENVER, Colo., June 27. The political forces that are seeking to make capital out of moves to repeal or weaken the prohibition laws are perpetrating "one of the historic blunders in political management," President Harding declared in his address here recently.

Appealing to the "broadest and best sentiments of law-abiding American everywhere," the president predicted that the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution, will never be repealed.

Mr. Harding foreshadowed contemplated changes in the Volstead act, however, stating that "doubtless" there will be changes in details of enforcement policy. He quickly added though that these would be towards "effective enforcement, rather than moderation."

The president spoke on the question of "law enforcement" and made one of the most remarkable addresses of his tour so far. He came out flat-footedly in calling on the country to observe the prohibition laws to the letter. He gave no quarter in condemning all who wink at the laws and in severely criticizing states who do not meet their full duty in carrying the proper share of enforcing the laws. President Harding struck out with full force in taking to task the state of New York for repealing its prohibition enforcement law. Mr. Harding did not mention New York or Governor Smith by name, but he left no doubt that he was referring to the passage of the Mullin-Gage law repealer and its signature by Al Smith.

"There could be no more complete negation of state rights," he declared. Speaking "of this policy of nullification" as he called it, the President said that "when the implications of this strange proposal are fully understood by people under parties devoted to preserving the rights of the states, the new nullificationists, I venture to say, will discover that they have perpetrated what is likely to prove one of the historic blunders in political management."

"The country and the nation will not permit the law of the land to be made a by-word," declared the president. "The issue is fast coming to be recognized, not as an issue between wets and dries, not a question between those who believe in prohibition and those who do not, not a contention between those who want to drink and those who do not; it is fast being raised above all that, to recognition as an issue of whether the laws of this country can be and will be enforced."

The men—and women and children, too—who live in the bituminous coal fields live well. They have advantages of which many city dwellers might well be jealous.

The lower picture shows a typical vine-covered cottage in which a mine worker and his family lives in one of the Colorado fuel fields. It has like nearly all of them, a yard and garden space, is clean, comfortable, and attractive in every way.

Coal companies build these houses for their employees. In former years, the experiment has been tried of selling the houses to the miners, but this has been discontinued as it was thought to be unfair because of the nature of the coal mining industry. The average life of a coal mine is twenty-five years, and when the coal is worked out, the community often dies. The companies now provide the houses.

For these houses, the miners pay at a rate running from $1 to $2 per room each month. Usually the higher figure obtains. This means that a comfortable six room house with modern improvements, is rented by the mine worker for $12 a month. Can you match this anywhere else?

Consider, too, that at some mines the family fuel for cooking and heating is supplied for about $1 a ton—at many mines it is entirely free—and that the lighting of the houses is done by the companies free of charge in nearly all cases.

The upper picture shows a visiting

nurse giving instruction to wives and daughters of miners in sewing. These visiting nurses are forming a more and more important phase in the life of a coal mining community—a phase which was unknown up until a few years ago.

When epidemics come, the visiting nurses have been the means of saving hundreds of lives of miners and their families.

Only nurses who can pass rigid tests are taken for this work. The first requirement is that they be graduate, registered trained nurses. Two years' practical experience since graduation is required before they can be considered for the mine work, in most of the fields where they are used.

Dangerous To Neglect High Blood Pressure

Does your system seemed to have "slowed up"? Does your heart palpitate or breath become labored on slight exertion? Are you weak, nervous and a poor sleeper? Do you have dizzy spells? Is constipation frequent? Have you ringing in ears? High Blood Pressure may cause one or all of these symptoms. And if neglected it may lead to a premature death.

If you have any of these symptoms, protect your health by taking Bi-a-lin. It acts by regulating the bile, the liver, and the organs of digestion and elimination. Then they cast out in nature's own way, the wastes and poisons which have caused your high blood pressure.

Recently Bi-a-lin has been put up in pleasant convenient tablets so that anyone may have it without a prescription. It is harmless as well as effective. For not only does it reduce high blood pressure, but it also tones up the great internal organs and thus gives you a new lease on life. Try Bi-a-lin today and see how quickly you begin to feel years younger. Sold by all good druggists such as the Mexia Drug company and Anderson & Gilliland. (Adv.)

Mutual Recognition Stopped Possible Further Trouble

DALLAS, Texas, June 27.—It was a case of mutual recognition when Captain George Emike of the local police force renewed his acquaintance with a negro bad man here.

Emike invaded the hiding place of the negro gangster and arrested him without the slightest trouble although the prisoner has a bad reputation.

Fifteen years ago, Emike, then a suburban partol man saw two negroes enter a house. In arresting them one of the blacks struck him over the head. Emike replied in kind with the butt of his pistol, knocking out several of the negro's front teeth and cutting a long gash in his face.

"When I made the arrest the other day, I recognized the same negro by the long scar," Emike said. "And he recognized me just as quickly," the Captain added.

Jury Locked Up In Houston Jail

HOUSTON, Texas, June 27.—The entire jury of the corporation court here was "locked-up" in the city jail recently.

After finishing their duties as jurors the men elected to make an inspection tour of the jail in the new police station. Someone slammed a door and it locked automatically.

Some persuasion was necessary before officer Sam White consented to release the men without an order from an official.

Rush of Students to Denton College

DENTON, Texas, June 27.—To facilitate registration of 2,600 students, at the North Texas State Teachers college, placards bearing comforting bits of advice such as "Keep Smiling," "Keep your Temper—nobody else wants it," and the like, were posted conspicuously about the college buildings.

Approximately 100 students an hour were registered for a time on one of the registration days. This was declared to be the worst rush the school has ever experienced.

HAWK ATTACKS CHILD AT VICTORIA

VICTORIA, Texas, June 27.—The six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Sauer of Arnebeckville was painfully injured when attacked by a hawk while playing with several other children near its home recently.

The hawk swooped down on the children and sank its claws in the back of the little fellow's neck. It was necessary to kill the bird before its grip on the child could be broken.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon Ray Butler by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the first Monday in September, A. D. 1923, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 24th day of October, A. D. 1922 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 3207A, wherein Farmers State Bank of Mexia, Texas, is Plaintiff, and G. C. Wisdom and C. M. Walker are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on December 3, 1921, defendant G. C. Wisdom made, executed and delivered to plaintiff his promissory note for the sum of $252.50 of that date payable to the order of plaintiff at Mexia, Texas, and due thirty days thereafter, bearing 10% interest per annum from date until paid, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees; that said note is past due and unpaid and defendant G. C. Wisdom has failed and refused to pay same or any part thereof.

Plaintiff shows that defendant C. M. Walker on June 23, 1921, made, executed and delivered to C. E. Scruggs his two certain promissory notes for the sum of $500.00 each, due twelve and eighteen months thereafter respectively, and bearing 10% interest per annum from date until paid, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees, said notes were given in part payment for the following described real estate and premises, situated in the County of El Paso, state of Texas, being Section No. 12 in Block No. 7 Public School Lands in El Paso County, Texas; that said property was on June 28, 1922, conveyed by C. E. Scruggs to defendant C. M. Walker by deed of that date in consideration among other things of the two notes last above described, and did in said deed of conveyance retain a lien to secure the payment secure the payment of said notes; that each of said notes is due and unpaid and the defendant has failed and refused to pay said notes, or any of them, but the same are still due and unpaid; that said notes have been placed in the hands of attorneys for collection and plaintiff has contracted to pay them the 10% attorneys' fees stipulated therein.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited to appear and answer the petition herein; that he have judgment for his debt, interest, attorney's fees, and costs of suit, and for the foreclosure of his lien upon the above described land and premises and that same be decreed to be sold according to law; that the sheriff or other officer executing said order of sale shall place the purchaser of said property sold under order of sale in possession thereof within thirty days after the day of sale; and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity that he may be justly entitled to.

Herein Fail Not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this 21st day of June A. D. 1923.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

NO. 16

Proposing an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which relates to taxation and revenues, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, directing the Legislature to provide for the construction, operation and maintenance, under State control, of a State system of public highways; providing for an election for the ratification or rejection of the amendment herein proposed, and making an appropriation to defray the expense of said election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That there be submitted to the people of Texas, for ratification or rejection at a special election provided for herein an amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, amending said Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, which shall read as follows:

Section 9a. The Legislature is authorized and directed to provide for the creation, establishment, construction, maintenance and repair of a system of improved highways throughout the State to be under the control of the State; and in order that the State may provide the means, revenues and instrumentalities for the establishment and maintenance of such system of highways, the Legislature is empowered to levy and cause to be collected specific excise and ad valorem taxes, in addition of those permitted for other purposes in the Constitution, but such an ad valorem tax shall be imposed only for the purpose of retiring the bonds authorized by vote of the people of this State as provided for hereinafter in this Section. When said system shall have been designated and taken over for the State as provided in Section 4 hereof, the Legislature is authorized to make provision for the equitable compensation to such counties for the value of such improvements as have been theretofore constructed by the Counties in the State.

Provided, also that save for the State highway system, in all other respects, Counties shall have the right to build, construct and maintain roads, turnpikes, and bridges within their respective boundaries and the Constitutional provisions relating thereto are not qualified or repealed by reason hereof.

The Legislature, at any Regular or Special Session, is authorized and directed to pass and enact all appropriate legislation necessary to carry out and effectuate the purpose and intent of these Articles.

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to cause to be issued his necessary proclamation for an election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1923, at which election this amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for adoption or rejection and shall make the publication required by the Constitution and Laws of the State. Said election shall be held under and in accordance with the General Election Laws of the State, and the ballots for said election shall have printed or written thereon in plain letters the following words:

"OFFICIAL BALLOT": "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways."

Those voters who favor such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words "Against the Amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." Those who oppose such amendment shall erase by marking a line through them, the words, "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast in such election.

Sec. 3. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of paying the necessary expense of the proclamation and publication of this amendment and the election to be held hereunder.

S. L. STAPLES,
Secretary of State.

Miners In Soft Coal Fields Escape High Rent Wave Sweeping Country; Enjoy Good Homes at Low Rentals

A coal mining community of today is not the desolate, backwoods place that is commonly pictured. On the contrary, it is a modern, up-to-date place, having advantages for those living there which few cities can boast.

The mine worker lives in a comfortable, clean, attractive house, with modern conveniences, for which he pays a rental figure that must make the city dweller tear his hair with envy. The companies build the houses and rent them to the miners, the rate of rental being figured at from $1 to $3 per room each month. Usually the higher rate prevails.

The six room bungalow pictured above is almost completely surrounded by a flower and vegetable garden. It is not a leaky wooden back of log-cabin, thrown together as a makeshift. It is built of concrete, is good to look at, and above all, is livable and comfortable. It costs the miner who lives in it with his family $12 a month at the most.

The mine workers living advantages do not end with the matter of rent. He gets his fuel in most fields for about $1 a ton. That is all it costs him for heating his house and for cooking. In some fields coal is supplied free to the miners' families. The company power plants in most cases supply light for the houses, either entirely free or at cost.

Medical aid and the services of trained nurses are supplied to the mine workers and their families in the bituminous coal fields entirely free of charge. In some fields there is a very low, flat charge for medical attention and supplies. This, while it is a direct and great benefit to the families of the miners and to the miners themselves, is not charity on the part of the bituminous operators. They know the advantage that accrues to the operation of their mines from keeping their employees in good health.

The other picture shows an amusement hall in a coal mining community. It is a big, concrete building, attractively fitted up inside as a club where the miners may loaf and have a good time during their hours off duty. Investments in amusement halls, churches, school buildings, and the like have been found to be good business by far-sighted coal operators. The coal mine operator knows the value of keeping his employees contented, and affording them and their family every possible facility for comfort, education, and advancement.

worked exceedingly hard and fast. They have accepted their appointments with not a complaint and this article is written strictly to let Mexia and her citizens know what a Spartan spirit has pervaded our local club. Had we been able to pull thru the first part of the season to date without the great handicap of injuries we today would be at least ten games of our nearest contender. We are not complaining—we are not alibing, but these are facts and truth will prevail. Our fielders have also been seriously injured and with the handicap of crippled pitchers would have taken the heart out of any other Manager save Hub Northen. Hub has fought a game, hard, uphill fight and to say that he has gotten the very best out of his boys does not tell half the tale. He is loyal to his men and to the Mexia fans and we are with him tooth and toenail—and as we all know a ball club is like an army—it must have a leader, this the Mexia Club has. So when they return turn out strong, patronize the club. You may not be such an ardent Base Ball fan, but relax from the every day grind of business cares and go. You will live longer and much happier. Sport to some people is an idle pastime. But, it is said of Old England that many battles have been won on the field of Manly Sport. Foreign writers attribute America's great supremacy in sports. There is much to learn out there where muscle and brawn play so important a part and where head work makes up the difference. So think this over—Mexia with a good ball club will be a bigger Mexia. You go and try to make it bigger in this way. Give our boys credit for their work—they draw pay but your attendances will do them more good, when it comes to heart interest than the monthly pay check. In justice to Mexia it is stated that she patronizes her ball club much better than any other town in the league—but keep this up and go further—make them all talk of our attendance. Give them your moral support as well as financial. Talk to them when you see them and let Hub Northen and the boys know that you are proud of them—they are human just as you and I—and you know what a pat on the back means—provided you have a soul within you. Do this for Mexia. Selah.—Fred S. Karner.

Mrs. Ernest Watson and Ernest Jr., and Mrs. H. S. Bennett are visiting in Dallas for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stevens.

T. V. McGannon and Edna McCready will be married Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Father Kelly. They are both from Kansas City and are the guests of Mrs. M. L. McGannon.

Among the Mexia friends who drove to Corsicana last evening to attend the Casparis-Jackson wedding was Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bass and Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Karner.

Miss Lillian Rovillo who has been nurse, recently at the Brown hospital was married Tuesday at Cleburne to Fred Bertland an employee of the Gulf Production company.

Mrs. Corinne Anderson of New Orleans who was a nurse in the Charity hospital, has accepted a position as nurse at the Borwn hospital.

Dame Rumor has it that one of Mexia's leading young business eligibles will take unto himself a wife on a date supposed to be one week from next Sunday. Fine. Come to Mexia.

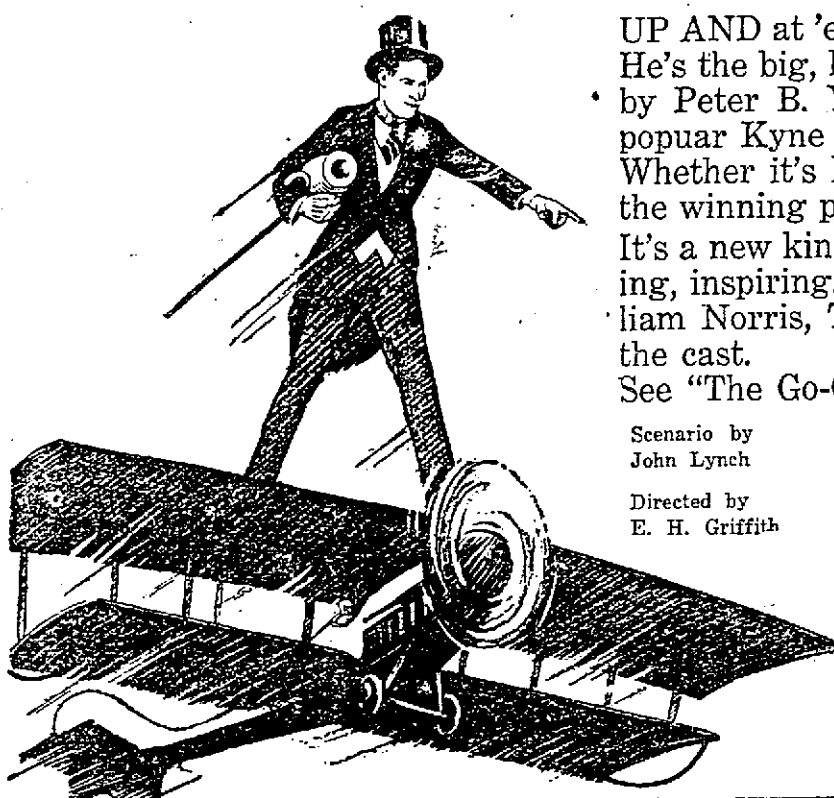

Jack Womack returned from Corsicana on the noon train after attending the wedding ceremonies of his niece Miss Argoo Jackson to James Casparis in Corsicana last evening.

Mrs. Rome Rust and Mrs. Frances Craig are entertaining some of their friends at the Playgrounds club house this afternoon in a game of bridge.

Our Ball Club

Many of you that go to see a ball game, see only the machine as it works before your eyes. Being praised or censured as to your opinion of the players ability. But how many stop to think of the ills and the pain that possibly many of the players are passing thru or have passed thru in their effort to give you your money's worth and a first class brand of

America's national sport. What we refer to is just this. The Mexia Base Ball Club in the first place is living up to their agreement and Contract as regards the maintaining of "look-ies" on the club and while in experience they are classed as Rookies YET in their playing there is no faster aggregation in the South—their years considered. This club has been gotten together for the sake of Pure Sport and with NO monetary object in view? They have fought nobly and manfully for the standing they have maintained—that is leading their league almost from the start. And ALL this in spite of a bunch of cripples. Hub Northen, our able manager, will tell that he has not had a Full Regular pitching staff all year. This was caused by un-avoidable injuries to the players. The pitchers require rest—we all know that—and with out their arms go to the bad. Yet the few that we have had have been

The Mexia Dry Goods Company will not be here many more days! The time is drawing near when we will have to make our departure. By July 14th we expect to have our stock sold down so low that we will have scarcely anything to dispose of.

To do this, we've got to sell thousands of dollars worth of merchandise within the next few days. We are sacrificing all profits in order to clear our store—passing the profits on to our customers who will benefit according to their purchases. Every line in our store has been reduced—and every salesperson in our store has been instructed to sell the goods regardless of cost price.

Let us urge you to come to our store immediately and purchase your supply for months to come!
